HOPE TO SAVE SUB CREW

JEALOUS YOUNG WIFE SLAYS HUSBAND

Air Seats Vacant Here, Full Abroad, Rogers Laments

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. Aug. 7.—I meet people every day who say, "I have never been up over here, but in Europe I had some wonderful trips."

Well, I have just traveled to Frisco where we have two different lines running daily, three-motored twelve-passenger planes. Four hundred miles in less than three hours. Yet they are not full.

Why? Because there are not enough foreign tourists who trust our aviators with their lives in preference to trusting their own countrymen. A foreigner feels that if he is taking a chance he would rather be killed by his own countrymen.

But with us it's different.

"Let us fall in Paris, or fall in the channel, and we will get a bigger death notice."

No safer, finer lines ever ran than these two. It must be the liquor that accounts for bravery on the other side.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Wonder if the cops have forgotten about the double parking crusade inaugurated by Mayor W. H. Gillespie some weeks ago. The nuisance is again becoming noticeable now and then, on downtown streets.

Tomorrow is the biggest day of the year at Cascade park—the Scottish Rite picnic. With good weather conditions western Pennsylvania will turn out 25,000 or 30,000 for this outing. And the program of the day is one that will be a most memorable one.

Enthusiasm for the early morning breakfast variety of picnic seems to be on the wane. There are few reports this summer of this variety of picnic gatherings.

Swimmers are certainly having their inning. These murky hot days of the past week have driven thousands to the bathing beaches and the bathing pools about the county.

Freak storms continue. Reports reaching the city today are that a number of nearby regions got a deluge last night. New Castle got very little rain. The storms seem to be more than ordinarily centered in small regions this summer.

Jack Hulme, philosopher and incidently a life guard, swimming instructor and scoutmaster, must be contemplating matrimony. Pa saw him down town this morning looking at furniture in the show windows. Up at Westminster Jack ranks next to president. He is swimming coach, trainer of the varsity teams, director of athletics and what not.

Speaking of Jack Hulme reminds us that the scout camp at New Wilmington went down the creek with the flood last week. When the storm came up it washed the tents and all else down the creek. Some of the equipment was recovered.

A lady appeared in the butcher shop and inquired if they had any lamb chops. Upon hearing that they did, she said she'd be in for some on Friday and left. N. B.—This is the truth.

Down at the Y. M. the assortment of things that boys left at camp is amusing. There are shoes, blankets and articles of every sort there awaiting the boys who left them. One youngster left a Bible.

Out at Mt. Jackson and in the vicinity there have been close to a dozen cases of thievery and house breaking in the past short time. One young fellow recovered his trousers the next morning in the alley at the rear of his home. The district is populated out there and there should be some police protection of some sort, residents declare.

Some of these days when Pa is feeling in an ugly mood and is walking along one of the highways he is going to take along his gattling gun and plink one of those motorist's tires that persist in shoving the walker off the highway. Now we believe if another

Young Wife Kills Husband During Jealousy Quarrel

Young Long Island Doctor Is Slain By Wife With Bread Knife

VACATION TRIP TRAGEDY CAUSE

Jealous Wife Accused Husband Of Attention To Other Women

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Frances Kirkwood, 25, and attractive, today killed her husband, Dr. Glenn Kirkwood, 26, with a bread knife during a quarrel in their home at Sunnyside Gardens, Woodside, L. I., according to the police who said the young woman admitted she was goaded into a jealous rage over his alleged attentions to other women.

She is held on a charge of murder. She told the police, they said, that she became so exasperated during an argument with her husband in the kitchen of their home about five o'clock this morning, that she turned on him with a bread knife.

The tragedy was brought about, she explained, by neighborhood gossip concerning her husband's alleged friendship with other women while Mrs. Kirkwood was on a four-weeks' vacation at Lake Ronkonkoma, L. I.

Dr. Kirkwood died three hours after he was stabbed on the operating table at St. John's hospital, Long Island City.

Whispering Rumors.

Mrs. Kirkwood told them, the authorities said, that when she returned recently from her vacation there were "whispering rumors" of her husband's friendships with other women in the community.

She upbraided him. He denied the accusations, however.

But the gossip continued. The matter was on her mind and last night they had an argument. It was renewed early this morning and it ended with Kirkwood sinking to the floor, his abdomen slashed with the knife.

As soon as he fell to the floor, Mrs. Kirkwood ran from the house seeking

Big Fire Loss As Barn Burns

Large Barn Is Destroyed By Fire On Farm Near Hillsville

VOLUNTEERS SAVE DWELLING HOUSE

Fire loss estimated at from $6,000 to $7,000 was sustained Monday afternoon by Mrs. C. W. Williams, who resides at 1108 Highland avenue, when the barn and wagon shed on her property located between Bessemer and Hillsville were destroyed by fire with their contents.

For a time the home on the property, occupied by the tenant, Mr. Mathey, and the family of a man assisting him in farming the property, was threatened with destruction, but those on the scene were able to confine the blaze to a corner of the roof of the house and put it out with small loss to that property. The loss sustained is partially covered by insurance.

Immense Barn

The fire was discovered about two o'clock Monday afternoon and the barn, one of the largest in that section of the county, made quite a big blaze. The fact that it was filled with new-mown hay added to the blaze.

While the cause of the fire is unknown, it is generally attributed to spontaneous combustion, the result of the new hay, owing to weather conditions, having been cut and stored in it in too damp a condition.

The fire spread to the wagon shed and threatened, as has been mentioned, for a time the destruction of the home on the farm, which is but a short distance from the barn. The fire was so intense that it was with difficulty that the many people attracted to the scene prevented the destruction of the home.

WIFE SUICIDES AFTER SLAYING GIRL

A temporarily deranged mind is believed by Waco, Tex., police to have caused Mrs. B. O. Ashworth, 24, right, above, wife of a newspaper cashier, to calmly enter the plant, shown below, in which he worked, engage Miss Charlie Lawson, left, also of the same age, in conversation, shoot her to death, attempt to force poison down the throat of her 18-month-old daughter and then drain the remainder of the vial herself. Miss Lawson died almost instantly and Mrs. Ashworth succumbed in a hospital a short time later. The baby is expected to recover.

COURTNEY RELATES FIRE ABOARD PLANE

Fliers Will Be Required To Go To Ellis Island To Pass Inspection

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Captain Frank T. Courtney, Fred Pierce, Hugh Gilmour and E. B. Hosmer, who were forced down in mid-Atlantic last Thursday when their Dornier-Napier Flying Boat Whale caught fire, probably will be required to go to Ellis Island today to pass before the immigration inspectors. The owners of the Liner Minnewaska, which rescued the fliers and brought them here, will be liable to a fine of $4,000 if the aviators overlooked this technicality.

The fliers attended a theatrical performance last evening after being honored at a banquet given by an or-

Temporary Bridge At West Middlesex

Work Is Completed On Structure Temporarily Replacing One Washed Out

Temporary bridge at West Middlesex, Pa., to take the place of the bridge swept away by the storm of last week was completed Monday, according to B .E. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor Club, and was thrown open to traffic last night.

It is now possible to travel to and from Sharon by way of West Middlesex over this bridge, according to Mr. Hanlon. Owing to the nature of this bridge, only one-way traffic is allowed. A watchman is maintained at the bridge, who controls the passage of traffic in the different directions.

Heat Wave Still Grips District, Two Drowned

Weather Man Says Thermometer Will Soar To 90 Today, But It Won't Be As Sticky

FIVE LIVES LOST SEEKING RELIEF

Western Pennsylvania Has Been In Grip Of Terrific Heat For Nearly Week

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—Relief from hot weather which has gripped western Pennsylvania since the middle of last week and which has taken a toll of at least five lives, was again delayed today as Weather Forecaster W. S. Brotzman announced that the temperture today would probably soar as high as 90 degrees.

Despite the possibilities of a new record for this last heat wave which has gripped the western part of the state, Brotzman indicated that the day may not be as uncomfortable as yesterday or Sunday since the humidity is not expected to rise to the high percentage it did on those two days.

Two Are Drowned.

Two more persons were indirectly added to the heat toll. John Vecenie, 5, of Millvale lost his life when he stepped into a deep hole while wading in a pond near the Millvale high school and drowned. A man, believed to be Frank Haas, 30, of Pittsburgh, was another victim when he was drowned while seeking relief from the heat in the Allegheny river.

Three persons were drowned Sunday, two at McKeesport and one at Sewickley. One heat prostration has been recorded.

Hoover Visions Real Farm Relief Plan Says Davis

Secretary Of War Tells Hoover He Will Carry Middle West States

PACIFIC COAST IS STRONG FOR HOOVER

Candidate Prepares For Notification Ceremony On Next Saturday

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

STANFORD.. UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 7.—Herbert Hoover will win the farmers of America to his standard of championing the development of inland waterways throughout the country, it was predicted today by Dwight F. Davis, Secretary of War.

Davis after calling on Hoover, declared the Republican nominee had a "greater vision of America's waterway problem than any other man in the country." This attitude—in which the nominee sees the development of waterways, as a means of reducing transportation cost and a means of bringing the farms and cities nearer to each other—will be a great influence in the farm belt, in the coming election, said Davis.

Transportation Is Need

"The farmers realize that one of their greatest problems and the most constructive measure of farm relief available is cheaper transportation," said Davis. Inland waterways mean cheaper transportation ont only of farm crops but of the materials shipped to farms, such as farm machinery.

Hoover received favorable reports of political conditions throughout the middle west from Davis and William H. Crocker, Republican National committeeman from California.

The Mississippi Valley is protected now against all ordinary flood, Secretary of War Davis announced here today.

"The government's efforts to restore flood bulwarks, washed away by last year's gigantic flood, have been carried to such a point, said Davis, "that the valley is safe from ordinary floods."

Flood Work Progresses

"It will take us ten years to complete our project," said Davis. "We will spend $35,000,000 next year and $325,000,000 to $500,000,000 in all to

THIEVES RANSACK HOME IN EAST SIDE DISTRICT

Two watches, a diamond ring and three bracelets were taken from the home of Edward Ort of 1014 Adams street, between the hours of 6 and 12 Monday evening, it is reported to the New Castle police department.

On investigating the call, Officers M. J. Young and Thompson found that the thieves had not only thoroughly ransacked the house, but had torn the paper from the walls in many instances. The parties who were in the house evidently were looking for money, is the belief of the investigating officers.

It is thought that they gained their entrance either by a skeleton key in the front door, or through the bathroom window. Both the window and the door were open when Mr. Ort returned to his home. As yet, no arrests have been made in connection with the robbery.

PREPARE FOR THOUSANDS AT CASCADE WEDNESDAY

Scottish Rite Picnic To Attract Great Crowd From Western Penna.

Program Of Day Assures Wonderful Variety Of Entertainment

Glancing quizzically at his rain-ometer, and throwing a weather eye toward the northeast corner of the sky, the weatherman opined today that everything would be under control Wednesday, Aug. 8, for the Scottish Rite picnic, which will be held in Cascade Park.

For the day Cascade Park is owned operated and controlled, or nearly so, by the New Castle Consistory. From the counties of western Pennsylvania the members are expected to come by thousands, and with them their wives and families.

Commander - in - Chief William H. Dunlap stated today that insofar as he knew, everything had been arranged for, and General Chairman C .Ed. Brown verified the prediction.

A dozen different committees are working, and have been working for weeks, getting their plans in shape for the big day, and early tomorrow morning when the sun begins creeping over the eastern horizon there will be a cavalcade of cars moving out from many cities in Pennsylva-

Governor Smith May Make Reply

Democratic Candidate Considers Statement On His Record In Assembly

READY TO WORK ON ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 7.—After a careful study of the New York legislative record as they relate to his service in the assembly from 1904 to 1916, Governor Al Smith today was understood to be preparing an answer to the charges hurled at him by William Allen White, Kansas editor.

White assailed Smith's record as a member of the lower house of the legislature, charging that he always voted in the interest of the saloon. The governor is said to have discovered several instances in his search of the 20-year-old records where he feels that Editor White did not get his facts exactly straight. A number of the bills for which Smith voted when in the assembly, and which White said were in the interest of

Central Firemen Ready To Move

Will Probably Occupy New Fire Station On Thursday

COUNCIL INFORMED STATION IS READY

With everything completed with the exception of the fire alarm system, it is understood at the Central Fire station that the fire fighting equipment will be moved to the new house on South Jefferson street Thursday, according to present plans.

During the latter part of last week, much of the furnishings of the house has been taken to the new home on South Jefferson street. Firemen have also been cleaning up the debris, so that the move can be made Thursday as expeditiously as possible.

David O. Davies, city councilman, today during council session advised colleagues that Fire Chief Lynn has reported the new Central Fire department, South Jefferson street is ready for occupancy and accordingly council authorized the fire chief to move his equipment to the new house.

Third Class Cities Convention Here During September

Solicitor Robert M. White today stated that plans for the convention of the League of Third Class cities here, September 18, 19, 20, are progressing.

A program is being prepared by Mayor Gillespie, who is president of the body, Attorney Clarence Patterson and White.

Council already has awarded a contract for the purchase of 500 identification badges.

Fred H. Gates, city clerk, Wilkes Barre, Pa., is arranging a part of the program, according to White.

Air Tube Inserted Into Sunken Boat—Rush Rescue Efforts

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Divers have succeeded in inserting an air tube into the Italian submarine F-14 which was sunk in the Adriatic following collision with an Italian destroyer, said a dispatch from Rome this afternoon quoting an official statement.

The text of the statement follows: "The crew of the submarine F-14 consisted of two officers and 29 men. The divers have succeeded in inserting an air tube. A chain has been placed underneath the submarine. The weather continues rough. The cruiser Aquila is standing by."

Rome, Aug. 7.—Navy officials were optimistic today that the Italian submarine F-14 which was sunk in 131 feet of water in the Adriatic with more than 20 men on board could be raised.

The F-14 was sunk after colliding with the Italian destroyer Giuseppe Missori.

Radio telephone communication was established with the crew of the submersible.

Divers went down and ascertained that the stern compartments of the submarine were not flooded. When

Coroner's Jury In California Requests Mauger Murder Probe

Jury Finds That Young Girl Met Her Death By "Persons Unknown," Man Is Detained

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—Bringing in a verdict that Barbara Mauger had been slain by "persons unknown", a coroner's jury today had recommended further investigation of the case.

The nude body of the girl, who disappeared last June, was found in an isolated gulch in north Hollywood last week.

The girl is said to have been brought here from Philadelphia by Russell St. Clair Beitzel, who deserted his wife and two children in the eastern city. Beitzel is being held in connection with the murder.

Testifying at the inquest, several witnesses said that Beitzel, the day after the girl's disappearance, told them that she had gone east.

Fistic fans are heartless, soulless. They have no choice, it seems. They merely cheer for the one who is getting the best and the fighter that is cheered one minute is booed the next.

Anent Mr. Thomas Heeney, the rock of the Anzacs, et cetera, Pa Newc was talking to a traveling man at The Castleton Monday who saw the late championship fight. And although most of the fanfare of applause for Tunney is over, yet this man believes that it is well he did retire, for he did not have the fighting heart of M. Heeney.

Travelers to Europe can talk of the fogs of London, but we have them here in New Castle too. Early this morning it was all a man could do to see more than ten yards in front of him. Motorists coming to the downtown section from the hills burned their headlights in futile effort to penetrate the murk. Of course, our fogs are white, while London fogs, we are given to understand on best authority, are slightly brown. Perhaps there is a difference.

Well, The New Castle News is right in with the class journals. It was brought to Pa Newc's attention that Will Rogers, who writes a daily "piece" for The News, is the only writer, not on their own staff, that the New York Times uses. And the New York Times, we are given to believe, is perhaps the acme of American journalism.

Rev. S. T. McKinney Here On Sunday

Lawrence County Native To Occupy Pulpit Of First Presbyterian Church

More than usual interest is manifested here in the announcement that Rev. S. T. McKinney, of Fort Worth, Texas, will be in New Castle and occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning.

Rev. McKinney is a Lawrence county native, having been born and reared in the vicinity of Plaingrove. His first pastorate was in St. Louis, Mo. He served 13 years in a Denver, Colorado, congregation, and went from that city to his present charge in Texas.

In addition to the fact that he is a native of Lawrence county, the further fact that a brother and two sisters reside in New Castle, add to the interest in his appearance here. The brother is R. A. McKinney, while the sisters are Mrs. R. J. Offutt and Mrs. W. T. Burns.

Sports Contests.

Wm. Klee, chairman of the sport committee for the Scottish Rite picnic at Cascade Park tomorrow has arranged a number of contests that are unique and will prove most interesting. Quite a few valuable prizes have been secured for the winners of the various events. The prizes have all been presented by members of the Consistory. The list of events follows.

50 yard dash for men.
50 yard dash for women.
50 yard dash for boys.
50 yard dash for girls.
Needle and thread race for ladies.
Stogie race for men.
Cracker eating contest for boys.
Balloon race for girls.
Three legged race for boys.
Tug of war for men.
Basketball throw for girls.
Pop drinking contest for ladies.

Deer and Bears to be Seen.

One of the features of the picnic and which should prove most interesting is an exhibition which has been loaned to the Consistory of New Castle by the State of Pennsylvania. It consists of a pair of fawn deers and a pair of bear cubs.

The exhibition was loaned by John J. Slautterback, superintendent of vermon controll. The animals will arrive early tomorrow morning and will be in charge of Henry J. Wins and Frank Johnston of this city, game wardens.

The parade which will assemble on South street in New Castle will move about 9:30 o'clock.

The children of the Margaret Henry home will attend the picnic in a body as special guests.

ganization of aviators, known as the Quiet Birdmen. They intimated they might attempt another trans-Atlantic flight, with Courtney as the pilot and Hosmer as the financial backer.

Relates Experience

The bronzed British pilot revealed that a blast of hot air was the first sign that the rear of their plane had caught fire. The glare of the blazing gasoline from a broken pipe cast a beam of red light on the sea and enabled Courtney to make a safe landing on the surface of the waves as the plane plunged down like a comet.

The fliers said that all of the crew became seasick during their eighteen hours' wait on the disabled plane before aid came. Hosmer, the passenger, read a novel while Gilmour tapped out an S. O. S.

The aviators received a marine welcome in the bay late yesterday and were cheered by a crowd of 2,500 persons at the Battery. Their flying trip up Broadway to City hall was almost unnoticed, however. They were welcomed officially at City hall by Mayor James J. Walker, who had returned earlier in the day from his tour in the south and west.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—It was all a mistake. Immigration officials have no intention of making Captain Frank T. Courtney and his three flying companions enter New York City by way of Ellis Island.

Reports that the crew of The Whale whose trans-Atlantic flight ended in flames in mid-ocean, would have to go to Ellis Island and be passed by immigration inspectors were flatly denied today by immigration Commissioner Benjamin M. Day.

Commissioner Day today issued the following statement:

"I instructed the immigration inspectors to extend every possible courtesy to Captain Courtney and his fellow fliers upon their arrival at the port of New York by the Steamship Minnewaska.

"To the best of my knowledge these instructions were carried out. My understanding is that they arrived as temporary visitors and plan to return to England within a very short time.

"It will not be necessary for them to report to immigration authorities at Ellis Island."

Crew Still Alive

The F-14 was engaged in coast patrol duty when it met in collision with the destroyer early yesterday morning. It was feared that the members of the crew were lost but radio telephone communicatiton showed they were still alive and had taken refuge in the rear part of the underwater craft which was not flooded.

Divers spent the night trying to raise the submarine. They operated from the cruiser Aquila which stood by to give any help it could. After the divers succeeded in getting a chain underneath the submarine it was expected that attempts would be made to raise it later in the day and anchor it to the floating drums.

Trieste, Italy, Aug. 7.—All the resources of the Italian navy were brought into play today in an attempt to save the lives of the men trapped at the bottom of the sea in the Italian submarine F-14.

The submarine sank after colliding with the destroyer Giuseppe Missori seven miles west of the island of Brioni.

The submarine had been engaged in attacking manouvers with the Italian fleet. It rose to the surface unexpectedly, directly under the bow of the destroyer.

A seaplane which went up immediately after the crash, reported that the craft was plainly visible at the bottom only a short distance away from the battleship Brindisi.

Admiral Foschini, aboard the Brindisi, is directing the rescue operations. It is feafed that the effecting of a rescue will be extremely difficult but the signals from the ill-fated craft showing that some, at least, are alive, hope that the trapped men may be saved.

The F-14 is one of ten of its class built at Leghorn in 1916 and 1917. It was engaged in coastal defense. Its displacement is 260 tons at the surface and 318 when submerged It is about 150 feet in length.

The sinking of the F-14 is similar in many respects to the sinking of the American submarine S-4 on Dec. 4, 1927, off Provincetown, Mass.

The last serious disaster to Italian underseas craft occurred in August, 1925, when the submerine Sebastiano Veniero with 50 men aboard disappeared during naval manouvers off Sicily and was never found.

out on a bed. He called police and they found Kelley in his hiding place.

Flirtation Begun.

Kelley and Mrs. Mellus met five years ago while he was working as a butcher in a local market.

"We started a flirtation" he said "and finally fell in love with each other.

Kelley, police said, apparently went to the Mellus home shortly after Mellus went on a fishing trip. A maid stated that he and Mrs. Mellus began drinking before they breakfasted. After serving them coffee and toast the maid said she left for the day.

Later in the day, according to Kelley, he quarreled with Mrs. Mellus which culminated in a beating. Then, he said, he fell asleep and did not wake up until late in the afternoon.

The husband refuses to believe that his wife had "an affair" with another man. He told officers he had been married 23 years.

"I simply can't conceive of such a thing' he said. "She seemed to loyal and true."

California Crew Olympic Winners; Race Italians

California, England And Canada Left In Eight- Oared Races

(International News Service)

SLOTEN, Holland, Aug. 7.—The Golden Bears of California, stroking beautifully, rowed Italy into the bottom of its shell to win one of the quarter final heats in the Olympic eight-oared championship today. The Bears won by three lengths in 6:32 4-5 for the 2000-metre distance.

The eights remaining for the semi-finals were California, England and Canada. The fortunate one among the three will draw a bye and automatically go into the final. The remaining two will race it out in the semi-final tomorrow for the honor of competing in the final.

Deaths Of The Day

Miss Poggio Funeral.

Brightening Up Portable Schools

Red Roofs Are Being Painted On Various Portables Still In Use

What portable schools that are left throughout the city are being made into attractive buildings and not the drab, colorless spots that they were before, according to S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings and grounds of the city school system.

Portables at Lincoln and Garfield as well as down at the Mahoningtown school, have been painted and present a cheerful appearance.

The metal portables have been painted aluminum, both inside and out, and have been trimmed in green. The roofs have been painted red.

Work at the Woods building in Mahoningtown, said Mr. Ligo, is almost completed.

Foreign War Veterans Picnic At Butler

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have arranged for a picnic Monday, Aug. 13, at Alameda Park, Butler, Pa. Something doing from morning until night and the buddies of all wars are bound to meet their friends. One extra feature is the dance in the evening, when Jack Crawford and his Victor Recording Orchestra of 11 sterling artists will play from nine until one, eastern standard time. Park plan dancing with everyone invited to enjoy this musical treat coming to Butler direct from the Steel Pier at Atlantic City, where Crawford has been playing both this season and last.

Crawford is known as the fattest and friskiest orchestra director of the country and is the delight of all his admirers. This event alone is worth the ride to Butler to enjoy with the hundreds that will be on hand, too.

the saloon, were sponsored by Republicans and were passed unanimously, according to close friends of the governor.

According to friends of the governor, he will make it clear in his reply to White that he is not ashamed of his assembly record. He also will stress the point, it was said, that he always has been a foe of the saloon and is a believer in temperance.

As soon as the governor disposes of the charge made against him by White he will turn his attention to the completion of the speech he will deliver on August 22, when he formally accepts the nomination. Before putting the final touches on his acceptance speech, however, the governor plans to confer with Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and possibly two or three farm leaders from the Middle West.

freight car, derailed the northbound Chicago Limited bound from Memphis to St. Louis. A half minute later, train No. 3, south bound from Chicago to New Orleans roared along and crashed into the derailed Chickasaw.

The known dead today stood at eight. Two hundred were injured, 59 of whom were taken to hospitals at Cairo, Ill., two of the latter may die, it was said.

Four of the dead were unidentified negro women. The other bodies were identified as: Mrs. Bud Snyder, West Orange, N. J., vaudeville actress; Joseph Zdenck, West Orange, N. J., a brother of Mrs. Snyder, vaudeville actor; William Douglas, pullman porter; and L. A. Drennan, of Mattoon, Ill., expressman.

Ed. Whalen, conductor of the Chickasaw, said his train had been warned of the sewer pipe on the right of way but that they came upon it a half a mile nearer than the spot described in the warning message.

RELIEF PRINTING

is a trademark for a certain maker of relief work done by the type method.

The relief printing as executed by this maker is represented by us and still remains cheaper than any engraving possible.

There are many other reasons why you should choose this, equally as nice and purposeful method in place of engraving.

FIRST, THE PRICE

We offer any time 100 weddings, done in the most expensive shaded type, at $12.00.

CALLING CARDS

100, panelled, at $2.00. And so all the way down the line, using any type style you desire.

SECOND, THE STYLE

Needless to say that with the rapid changes in styles you would soon tire of a plate, but owing to the expense of a new one, you perhaps have to use it over again.

THIRD, THE WORK

When executed by skilled workmen, such as these, who produce cannot be told from engraving.

And the popularity of this work is told when we state that 90% of this class of work today is in this process. Five years ago it was 90% engraving and 10% process.

WHY? BECAUSE

It's cheaper.
It's quicker.
It looks just as good.
It gives you a choice of type styles all at the same price.

We, of course, guarantee all work to be perfect and suggest that you be sure of getting

RELIEF PRINTING

The tradename, not the general name.

If you insist on engraving we are well equipped to meet your requirements.

NEW BEDFORD MAN WEDS INDIANA GIRL

At high noon Thursday, August 2, the First Congregational church of Angola, Indiana was the scene of a very attractive wedding, when Miss Eleanor Robertson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Robertson became the bride of Harold M. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bailey of New Bedford.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Humphreys D. D. The altar of the church was banked with pink and white garden flowers and ferns, above which a large seven branch candle stick was lighted.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. Mabel Huffman Ferris, cousin of the bride sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

As the bridal party entered the church Edward D. Willis played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin.

The bride who entered on the arm of her father wore a period gown of white taffeta with tulle inserts on the skirt. Her vail hung from a tulle cap which was held in place by a triple band of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white rose buds, baby's breath and ferns.

Her only attendant, Miss Louise Cueftan of Quincey, Ill., wore a period gown of pink crepe and tulle with shaded pink picture hat. Russell Bailey, brother of the groom acted as best man. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the church parlors, which was followed by a breakfast for twenty-four guests at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Bailey was graduated from Oberlin college, class of '27 and Mr. Bailey from Grove City college, class of '27 also. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey left later in the day for a three weeks motor trip through the East, after which they will be at home in Clarion, Pa.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Miss Geraldine Hopkins of Lake Side, O., Miss Beatrice, Lee Ralston of Clarion, Miss Louise Cueftan of Quincey, Ill., all college friends of the bride and Messrs Lloyd, Russell and Cecil Bailey, brothers of the groom all of New Bedford, Mrs. Mary Perfest of Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wyandt of Bryan, O.

TO CURB ALIEN SMUGGLING

SINCE July 1 immigrants entering the United States have been given a card of identification. These cards are evidence of the alien's legal admission and are to be used when seeking permits to leave or re-enter the country and when applying for naturalization.

There has been some opposition to the adoption of this card system because of its similarity to European police registration systems. To a certain extent it is open to that objection—if objection it can be called.

It is obvious that for bona-fide immigrants such a system holds no great terrors, although it may be distasteful to a freedom-loving man. But for those who are here illegally, or who hope to enter in violation of the immigration laws, this new regulation will be disadvantageous. It is no secret that the government hopes in this way to check the smuggling of aliens.

Since the new ruling is not retroactive, it means there will be at least four classes of immigrants: those who entered lawfully before the immigration restriction laws went into effect; those who entered lawfully since the quota system has been applied; those who enter lawfully after installation of the card system, and those who are smuggled in while the card rule is in force. As only the third group will have identification cards, it remains to be seen to what extent this will confuse, rather than facilitate the work of apprehending bootlegged aliens.

The principal thing at present is to stop the illegal flow, and, within reasonable limits, that which accomplishes this purpose should not be intolerable to the new immigrant legally here.

RAILROADS SEE PROSPERITY

THE nature of their business makes railroad men reserved optimists. Their predictions as to tomorrow's business are always conservative. They cannot go out and make business as can others in ordinary business and industry. They must wait until business needs the services of the transportation they provide. No factory ever started up because there happened to be an empty box car on its siding. But some have closed down because cars were not there.

Railroad men of today are as conservative as early railroad builders were extravagant and reckless. Their industry requires a tremendous investment and constant use of capital in replacement of worn-out rolling stock and track. Hence, they want to see a reasonable amount of business ahead before they are willing to make any predictions as to the future.

Having made their look ahead for the last five months of 1928 railroad officials pronounce themselves satisfied with the prospects. They predict a considerable increase in car movements during the third quarter of the year. As this estimate is based on the best information obtainable by competent and conservative experts it is safe to accept their conclusion.

Here is another convicing bit of evidence that business is on the upgrade with prospects of greater activity and possibly a new record in the last half of the year.

THE NEW IMPERIALISM

SEVERAL years ago the British Empire had a monopoly on the production of crude rubber and took advantage of it to force up the price. As American industries consume most of the crude rubber produced and the people of the United States use more tires and other rubber goods than the rest of the world combined the monopoly price was chiefly a tax on the American people.

The artificial prices created under the British monopoly have defeated their own purpose. For a time they brought large profits to British rubber tree planters and their government. But, while those profits were pouring in, American manufacturers of rubber goods, under the whip of the high cost of crude rubber, were acquiring and developing rubber plantations. The British monopoly has been broken and the time may come when the United States will fix rubber prices.

Most of the rubber plantations are in the Orient, but one American automobile manufacturer is establishing a vast plantation in Brazil. He has contracted with the government of Brazil for the use of 5,000,000 acres of land for rubber tree growing.

In other days, a powerful country wanting something possessed by a weaker nation would have walked in with an army and taken it. Today, its millionaires walk in and bargain for it. A new imperialism has come into being, an imperialism of dollars and technical skill.

FIVE CENTS BY AIR MAIL

DEVELOPMENT of air mail routes is rapid. Announcement was made last week that there are now thirty-two regular lines either operating or about to begin. In thirty-four hours letters mailed in New York or Philadelphia can be landed in San Francisco or Los Angeles. The time to New Orleans is fourteen hours. Panama can be reached in less than three days. All parts of the United States are connected with Canada, Cuba, Porto Rico and most of Central America.

Heretofore you have paid ten cents for a letter weighing half an ounce. Hereafter you can send a full ounce for five cents. There's progress for you. The air mail is destined to become a tremendous factor in the distribution of correspondence and packages.

Peace is an interval during which nations make resolutions to be chivalrous next time.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:09. Sun rises tomorrow 5:03.

Old fashioned bankers and business men are necessary to keep professional boosters from running away with the world.

The only reason why street cars are going out of business and not running so often is because people do not ride on them enough to make it pay any kind of a return. Street cars are not run for fun any more than any private business is run for sport. It will not be many years before their are no street cars and those who do not have autos or other means of transportation are going to be out of luck. No one is compelled to furnish transportation at a loss for another. We don't own any street cars either.

If you want to know how much real interest the average knocker takes in humanity and his city in general just ask him for a little donation to some worthy cause.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

The other morning a housewife visited the business section carrying a reminder list of purchases to make and errands to do. She laughed when she thought of the part of the list that was so much like the list which her grandmother might have carried. But she smiled more about the last two items on her memorandum sheet for the reason that her grandmother no doubt would have been much shocked because they were there. The lady's list is given here. It is typical of hundreds of others made out in New Castle every day:

Four yards of pink georgette.
Two spools of thread.
One box of face powder.
Meat for dinner.
Bacon for breakfast.
Rice.
Canned milk.
Crisco.
Hair cut.
Cigarettes.

Price isn't everything. Any woman had rather wear a $9.98 36 than a 42 costing $185.

And by the way when the subject of advertising New Castle comes up don't forget James M. Smith and his wonderful Shenango Pottery. No matter where you go in distant parts you see New Castle China on hotel tables, in the dining saloons of mighty ocean liners and now it is to be used on an airship to the South Pole. This pottery is just another case of "Every Great Institution being the Shadow of a Single Man." New Castle is proud of the Shenango Pottery and it's owners and the men and women who operate it. And Mr. Smith is a modest chap and he says the credit is due to the people who operate the plant. Well, he is the well directing head.

What has become of the hickory shirt and the man who once wore it. Also the Kentucky jean pants.

We noticed where a couple of flutters starting to this country from Europe across the Atlantic had two thermos bottles full of coffee and six bottles of champagne. They also had a few sandwiches. The champagne seemed the most important if bulk is figured.

There are also quite a few people that sign every paper that is put in front of them which makes a pledge to do certain things and pay certain sums in a certain time, but never pay any attention to their signed word afterwards. There are men who would never think of going back on their spoken promise let alone on their written word.

Campaign years make some folks act funny.

The Hints and Dints man has a touch system but it is not on the typewriter.

In the old days one might have been able to love one's neighbor as himself because people lived so far apart they never heard or seen much of each other in a year. No radios, no lawnmower, no noisy automobiles or anything.

A thirteen year old boy was arrested in West Virginia for running a still and making likker. They always did teach 'em how to make it young in that state. That's where moonshine was invented.

A typical husband is one who wonders why his wife doesn't ask him instead of consulting the dictionary.

It is predicted that soon while we are listening to the radio we will at the same time be able to see the artists who are making the program. It looks as if there is to be no privacy for anything or anybody seen. We are on our way but we do not know where we are going. Oh, Hum!

Some men take their troubles to bed with them but wise men sleep alone.

The reduced price on air mail postage has increased the air mail from fifty to seventy-five per cent. It's getting within reach of the bargain hunters now.

The pavements still belong to the people who still walk.

Most people like maple syrup, but some think revenge sweeter.

While some bozos are doing something that pleases them immensely they are at the same time building something that is going to cause them a lot of woe, anguish and perhaps pain later.

SUMMER SONG
by Franklyn Blanning

Memory flies away, dear
When all the trees are green;
The gay, shining summer days
That gave us love's first dream.
When time quick-steps to a march,
Your heart it cannot fret.
How well I now remember
The days that you forget.

Memory comes so near, dear,
When all the trees are brown;
The sad, shadowed autumn days
That give the earth a frown.
When time drags to a dirge,
'Tis then you'll know regret.
How well you will remember
The days that I'll forget.

When a man says "Well, nobody is perfect," chances are his wife has caught him at something.

A slow poke is a nuisance anywhere you find him and he is also being recognized as a menace on the highways while driving an automobile. When you meet a long string of automobiles on the road the one at the head is always some slow bird and he is the cause of the string of cars behind him going slow and making it dangerous for any cars in the getting out and going faster. There are a lot of people who should never be allowed to run an automobile.

The moments an American remembers are the first time he kissed a girl, the time he got his first job, and the first time he saw a butler.

No doubt the reason anonymous letter writers never sign their names is because their stuff is also so rotten they are even ashamed to let it known themselves that they have written it. And some perhaps are so cowardly that they are afraid of being killed. Brave patriots any how that shoot people in the back from ambush.

The average man doesn't turn the other cheek until he's pretty sure he's licked.

The fellow who doesn't let his right hand know what his left hand is doing isn't much of a slicker at stud. We were handed that one and do not understand it, not knowing one playing card from another. We are not a mollycoddle just because of that don't think.

"In God We Trust" wasn't on early coins. Apparently this country didn't begin to trust in God until 1864.

By June 30 of this year 188,236 Americans secured passports to visit Europe. This is 7,000 more than got passports during the previous year. According to that only a few Americans can go abroad. About that many would visit Yellowstone Park in a year.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

We heard a chap say yesterday that he could make hootch himself, but all his neighbors did and they had to have a customer. Yeow!

We have noticed where small bridges have been washed out in some parts of the country the roads to them have been closed and thus causes long detours. During the war temporary bridges that carried heavy artillery were built in what might be called minutes. There really isn't any necessity for roads being closed on account of washed out bridges very long if some brains are used. We could get a dozen engineers we know to throw a bridge across most any stream around here.

It's incorrect to say you feel sweat running down your back at a picnic. What you feel is ants.

Some one asks us if women really do wear fewer clothes now, why is it that a husband still never can find a vacant hook in the wardrobe? More wardrobes is the answer.

If some skirts get any shorter stockings will have to be made longer. Maybe a real cold winter will lengthen the skirts.

Statistics just made public show that crime costs this country 13 billion dollars each year. It's too expensive.

TOO FAST FOR HIM

An Italian in police court pleaded his case as rapidly as his rudimentary knowledge of the English language permitted. Presently he noted that the court reporter was taking down in shorthand what he was saying.

The Italian talked faster and faster. Finally he burst out: "Don't writa so fast. I no can't keepa up with you!"

After Gov. Smith was nominated at Houston, Mrs. Smith was presented with a mule colt and she took it home to Albany with her. The mule died because it could not stand the northern climate. Anyhow it's just another jackass gone.

Most all the aviators who start across the oceans are said to have made up their minds to get where they are started for or die. We are glad they always take the seriousness of it into consideration before they start to drop a nose dive into the water. Weighing the cost first is the right idea.

Hail to El Ouafi, the Arab.
How's Your Neokinesis?
Absit Omen, Alias Unberufen.
California's Summer.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

El Ouafi, Algerian Arab, won the Olympic marathan Sunday, carrying the colors of France, outrunning all the proud fair-haired Nordics, including the "iron men" from the north.

Plaza, from Chile, a Latin, was second. Two Japanese were among the first half dozen to finish the long, hard race.

The original marathon runner that dropped dead would probably have been nowhere in Sunday's race. On the other hand, he will be remembered when El Ouafi, Nurmi and Ray are forgotten.

Dr. Tilney, professor of neurology at Columbia, says things to annoy a fundamentalist.

Your thinking power, you may not know it, is just plain "neokinesis." You develop that while other animals squandered it, whales and seals in the sea, horses racing around. Bats, which like whale and ourselves are mammals, wasted their neokinesis flying in the air.

Luckily your ancestors were tree-climbing mammals. Holding to branches, their paws changed to claw-like hands and their activity stimulated the brain to thought. Neokinesis had a chance to develop among the peaceful tree branches.

The hands, making signs, led to speech, and there you are. All that we are we owe to neokinesis, properly applied.

Prof. Tilney's books on the brain will give you much encouragement. We have hardly started our brain development. You can buy now Dr. Tilney's book, "The Brain From Ape to Man." Two other books on the brain will appear later. Dr. Tilney does not say who invented neokinesis. That is the puzzle. As the little boy said when he was spanked, "Who started this idea?".

Thirty-two million francs Uncle Sam paid for land on the Place de la Concorde in Paris. There he will build a modern palace, with nice big columns, to house the American ambassador.

The site purchased is only a few feet from the spot where the French cut off the heads of Louis XVI, Marie Antoinette and others.

Absit omen, or "unberufen," as the Germans say. When you see a republic imitating royal foolishness you remember Prudhomme's wise saying: "Monarchies are destroyed by poverty, republics by wealth."

It will interest the country to know that heat killed 14 in and around New York Sunday and others the day before.

California would like the world to know that the state is primarily a summer resort.

It is, of course, marvelous in winter. But to know California at its best, go there now.

For a really cool climate, go to San Francisco. To enlarge your knowledge of this country, and your admiration for it, go to Seattle.

A Russian flier hunting for the lost Italians, marooned on the ice without food, killed a Polar bear and lived on him. That is the kind of Russian aviator Babushkin is. Once he was a laborer. Under the czars he would have died a laborer. Now at 40 he is a flier and a good one. Perhaps Bolshevism really does give workmen a chance.

When Commander Byrd goes to the South Pole, establishing his base in Whale Bay, 800 miles north of the Pole, at the far end of New Zealand, he will have no food trouble.

In the Antarctic wastes are no bears, nothing to frighten seals that abound, and are fearless. Byrd will kill a few tons of them and they will keep fresh indefinitely, with temperature 40 below. That fresh meat will protect his expedition from scurvy, curse of explorers.

For a change there are penguins, solemn creatures, looking like little men, walking around, so friendly, coming up to the tents, and very good to eat.

It must be unpleasant to knock the little creatures in the head.

Various automobile companies have broken sales records in the first half of this year, and sales in the second half will equal $1,500,000,000 at least.

A few years ago that would have made old-fashioned bankers predict disaster.

The automobile, making vast tracts of land accessible, has increased the value of real estate so enormously that the cost of cars that cause the increase is nothing. For every dollar spent on automobiles, land values have increased more than ten dollars—to say nothing of the time saved, happiness increased.

Sailors call the trip westward across the Atlantic "uphill", and another airplane has learned that it is an accurate description.

The courageous Polish aviators are safe, which is the main thing. There is no doubt they will try again.

A GOOD STORY

Bulwer Lytton calls attention to the fact that good stories will always be about the past. The past is romantic, the present is humdrum.

Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, the well-known lexicographer, has dug around among folk lore considerably. He has found in East Anglia, England, a fairy story that is not very widely known. As any good story needs no apology I reproduce the main features of it here:

Once there was a very rich man who had three daughters. He asked each of them, "How much do you love me?" One said, "I love you as life." Another said, "Better than all the world."

The third answered, however, "Why, daddy, I love you as fresh meat loves salt."

The father thereup was angry and said to the third child, "You do not love me, child. Out of my house you go for you cannot stay here."

The third, sad at heart, wandered aimlessly about, until one day she came upon a lot of rushes growing in a ditch and made from them a cloak and hood which entirely concealed her fine clothes.

Coming to a large manor house she got employment washing pots and scraping sauce pans.

Because she gave no name they called her "Cap o' Rushes."

One day a dance was held in a nearby castle. Everybody else went but Cap o' Rushes, who remained by her fireside. But when all were gone she doffed her rush concealments, washed up and went to the dance. She was more beautiful than anyone else there. The master's son fell in love with her at once and refused to dance with anyone else.

Before the dance was over she escaped and went home.

The next morning the other servants said that she she had missed a grand sight. "What was that?" she asked.

"Why," they said, "the beautifulest lady you ever saw. The young master never took his eyes off her."

The next evening there was another dance and similar events occurred.

The third evening, on the occasion

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A FAST WORKER.

A New Castle man who lived several years in the Argentine tells the story of a North American who asked an English Druggist for a bottle of "Enoch's Fruit Salts" and was told "You wih 'Eno's Fruit Salt', surely for 'Enoch' was the blighter who walked with God."

Now a Canadian salesman, offering to a customer some shares of stock of the International Proprietaries Ltd., of Great Britain, which company is now the proprietor and manufacturer of "Eno's Fruit Salt," perpetrates the following: "You had better put in your order right away, because you know the stuff moves fast."

The world may know how fast it works, but it does not know much about the history of the establishment of this saline industry.

The business was founded by James Crossley Eno (1828-1915), owner of a small pharmacist's shop in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. Early in his career he conceived the idea of a more gentle remedy for the internal ills of his customers than the "black draughts and pills" of the period. He backed up his faith in his invention with liberal advertising, being one of the first to insert full-page advertisements in the illustrated papers. Many of his ideas still exist as selling points. Following his death in 1915 the business continued to expand, and the London factory was supplemented by plants in Paris, Berlin, Barcelona and finally in Toronto. It is now proposed to begin production in the United States and in Australia.

In selling the business Mr. Eno's heirs gave special consideration to Mr. Harold F. Ritchie, who as company's agent greatly developed sales in North and South America and lands bordering the Pacific Ocean. Mr. Ritchie and associates are reported to have finally been sold the business, in view of past services, at a sum lower than that bid by a New York syndicate and a well known New York life insurance company. Natural desire to keep control of the business within the British empire probably also had something to do with the special consideration given Mr. Ritchie's offer.

There are some things very British beside the Crown, the Unicorn, the Lion and the Union Jack. "Eno's Fruit Salt" seems to be one of them.

NATURE'S CHILDREN.

Nature has a gentle way
When her work is done,
But her children, day by day
Labor in the sun.

Nature is a parent stern
Eearly in the spring,
Then she makes her children learn
Arts of blossoming.

Through the weeks she holds them fast
Obedient to her will.
Forcing them to brave the blast
With its bitter chill.

Strong she'd have them at the end
Fit to bloom and seed,
Pity? She has none to lend
When it's strength they need.

Then when summer skies grow blue
And their work is done,
They may spend the whole day through
Dancing in the sun.

FIGHT ON TALKING MOVIES

Efforts on the part of the American Federation of Musicians and the Actors' Equity to limit the use of the talking motion pictures, on the ground that they are a menace to the arts of the stage, gain little favorable response from the public.

"It is the age-old struggle between the man and the machine, which the machine has always won," says the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. "Labor, for the most part, recognizes that virtually nothing can be attained by fighting the machine, and much can be lost if intelligent perception does not suggest the necessary adjustments to new conditions. If they are undertaken in time, there is a labor makeover which does not entail much distress. A delayed adjustment sometimes does mean serious disturbance of living conditions. The rule is that the machine wins, and in that is one reason for general American success."

Fears that the number of competent musicians will decrease and that the quality of music will deteriorate are discussed by the WORCESTER TELEGRAM. It is conceded by that paper that "as the means of distributing music by mechanical means improves, it is likely that a smaller number of 'producers' will be able to meet the demands of the customers. But the pessimistic prediction may be the wrong one," continues the Telegram. "Mechanical progress may prove more of a stimulant for musicians than is expected. The fear regarding the quality of music seems groundless. There is no reason to believe that the human voice will deteriorate because of mechanical progress. * * * It is natural to expect that progress in instrumental music will be forward, not backward."

That the musicians "are unduly alarmed" is the conclusion of the KANSAS CITY STAR, which directs attention to the fact that the movies themselves "have provided for more orchestras than ever were known before" and that mechanically produced music "creates a musical taste reflected in a hundred ways in the wider spread of musical education." The Star adds: "Music didn't originate in the movie shows and won't end there. Beethoven never heard of a movie. When another like him comes along, he will give orchestras employment for a thousand years—and where will the movies be by that time?"

"Attempt to limit the talking motion pictures on the ground that they menace art on the stage," according to the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, "is just as sensible and will be just as effective as would be a protest by an association of painters production of plays will do is to force musicians and actors to give such good performances that they cannot be successfully imitated by mechanical means."

"Contempt was shown for the first screen productions. The 'speaking stage' frowned upon the novelty," recalls the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES, "and would have nothing to do with it. Talking pictures, like any other innovation, must depend for success upon innate merit. If they possess it, their triumph is certain, and all affected interests must readjust themselves. Progress cannot be checked nor change prevented by mere stubborn reaction. * * * It is not unreasonable to suppose that talking pictures will enlarge rather than curtail the market for harmonious effort."

As to the possibility that owners will dispense with orchestras in individual theaters, the ROCHESTER DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE remarks: "The theater owners doubtless would welcome this innovation, for the item of music is one of the costliest which the theaters, especially the small ones, have to meet. The owners, it may be supposed would grasp eagerly for a chance to hold the whip which the musicians, through their powerful organizations, have held in the past. But neither the theater men nor the musicians will have the final decision. * * * Unless the talking movies can produce a substitute for orchestra music which

Asks For Repair Of Broken Sewer

Sanitary Sewer On Albert Street Broken During Paving Work

Albert Marshall, 1305 Albert street, today told council his residence had no sanitary sewer on account of the Woods & Golder Construction company having interrupted the line while grading. He asked that the sewer be repaired and not at his expense.

Woods & Golder claim that the sewer laid six feet below the spot graded and are not sure if their employes caused the steam shovel to cause the interruption. Mr. Marshall also said he did not know for sure that it did but he was sure that prior the sewer had been all right.

It seems that the Marshall sewer was connected by a Y with another property owner's sewer. The other gentleman's sewer was repaired but not the Marshall sewer and his place is without sanitary sewer and he is insistent on immediate repair.

The sewer was built wrong, according to Solicitor White but Marshall maintained that in such an event it had been an error on the part of the city inspector 15 years ago and he should not have to pay for a new sewer to run 40 feet.

Councilman Reeves has been delegated to investigate the problem.

Corned Beef And Cabbage Cooking Is One Real Art Says The Castleton Chef

New Castle Is Quite Fond Of Jigg's Dish Declare Hotel Men

Chef, However, Is Leary Of Announcing His Recipe To Public

There are many ways of cooking corned beef and cabbage, and one of the best is told by Albert Reeg, chef at The Castleton, who has used his recipe from Maine to California, and, according to his statement, has pleased the jaded palates of many gourmants with his concoction.

Popular Here.

And, surprising as it is, corned beef and cabbage are very popular in New Castle. Thursday noon's when it is served at The Castleton, it is requested more than any other dish, claims E. M. Shanley, assistant to the steward and John L. Slack, manager of the hotel.

But here is the method by which Chef Reeg things best to prepare the dish:

First, one gets home made corned beef, which is best prepared by the same hands that confect corned beef and cabbage. How Chef Reeg makes his corned beef is one of his secrets, is not for the public ear. The corned beer should be put on the fire, with cold water, brought to a boil, and then allowed to simmer until it is soft.

In the meantime, the cabbage should be quartered, the heart removed, and put into another pan with hot water. When it is half cooked, the liquid should be poured out, and the liquid from the corned beef added, thus to give it that inimitable taste. After letting the cabbage and corned beef water stand together for some time, both the corned beef and cabbage should be put together and served with boiled potatoes.

However, there are tricks to any trade, and Chef Reeg's trade has its tricks also. And the tricks are the thing which differentiate a good chef from a poor chef. When asked as to the quantity of the corned beef and cabbage: how much of each should be used, he shrugged his shoulders slightly, and responded: "Any amount".

Mistake In Bid For Cascade Street Sewer Is Report

Council Rejects Bid For This Reason Will Ask For New Bids

Council today rejected all bids for the construction of a sewer in Cascade street between Stanton avenue and a point 1026 feet north of Butler avenue.

The New Castle Construction company offered the low bid of $10,067.50, but an error was found in the bid.

Recently a resolution was adopted by council which provided that all bids which contained mistakes should be rejected.

Council today lived up to the resolution, rejected the bids, then repealed the resolution and Councilman Reeves' motion asking for new bids was adopted.

According to council, no end of difficulty would be encountered were the resolution to stand on the books as there are almost always errors in bids for every job, this being one of the reasons why the bids are sent to the city engineer for checking before a contract is awarded.

Los Angeles Pair Murdered In Bed; Gangsters Blamed

Man And Wife Asleep In Bed In Los Angeles Home Are Slaying Victims

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—The guns of gangland were responsible for the double murder in their home here today of Gaitano Binette and his wife, Concetta, shot down as they slept according to police report.

Maria Binette, cousin of the couple, told police that she was awakened by three heavily armed men, one with a flashlight. She was told to keep quiet, she said, and the pair went into the couple's bedroom and an instant later a fatal fusillade rang out.

The theory advanced by police was that Binette "knew too much" and that his wife was slain to prevent possible identification of her husband's slayers.

will be exactly as good as the original, the public is not likely to tolerate the complete elimination of orchestras from motion-pictures theaters."

"It will only be when the great recording orchestras are reproduced so perfectly that their music is far superior to that of lesser aggregations that these lesser organizations will lose out," argues the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, and the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, giving attention to the cultural advantages arising from the employment of orchestras brought to "a pretty high level," declares: "There have been times when the cultured ticket buyers have found the orchestra more enjoyable than the pictures, which is high praise, indeed. Into this cultural atmosphere the talking movie has intruded. By a mechanical miracle, it projects both music and the agitated likeness of the musician. * * * Artistically, we are right back to the electrical piano that ground out 'Spring Song', by Mendelssohn, in the infancy of the pictures. 'Menace' is not too strong a word."

Voicing general sympathy for the professional musicians, the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, at the same time, advises them "in these kaleidoscopic times, no occupation, no business, is free from peril of change which will call upon its utmost wit. At such times, it is quick readjustment to new conditions or die. In the case of the musicians, the change to the talking movies promises to be slow enough to give time to find a new footing."

"In the end," states the TOLEDO BLADE, "the newer and cheaper methods of the manufacture of music or bottles or shoes or automobiles always win. Old methods are tossed aside like the flimsy ruins of a frost-bitten plant, but new occupations are opened to new generations." The HAMILTON, ONT., SPECTATOR remarks that "the great disturbances of the industrial era were long in righting themselves, and with every fresh advance new groups of workers are compelled to adapt themselves to changed conditions."

The MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL concludes that "apparently old King Canute has come forth again, placed his throne on the seashore and waved a threatening baton at the ocean tides while he commanded them to recede."

of another dance, the young master was so in love with her that he gave her a ring and said if he never saw her again he would die.

Cap o' Rushes again escaped. The young master hunted everywhere for her, pining away for love.

He took to his bed and the cook was ordered to make some gruel for him as he was dying of love.

Cap o' Rushes, however, made the gruel, slipped the ring into it and took it upstairs. The young master saw the ring when he had finished the gruel and asked who had prepared the dish. Learing it was Cap o' Rushes he sent for her and asked her where she got the ring. "From him that gave it to me," she said.

"And who are you?" he asked.

"I will show you," she replied, and took off her rushes. And there she stood in all her beautiful clothes.

Of course they had a grand wedding, and at the wedding feast Cap o' Rushes arranged to have all the meat served without salt. Cap o' Rushes' father tried it and then burst into tears.

"Oh," he cried out, "once I had a daughter. When I asked her how much she loved me she said, 'As much as fresh meat loves salt.' So I drove her away for I thought she did not love me. And now I see she loves me best, though she may be dead by now."

"No, father, here she is." She put her arms about his neck and kissed him, and so "they lived happily ever after."

Ask Commission To Dismiss Petition On Modification Issue

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A group of minority stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, headed by George S. Kemp, of Richmond, Va., today asked the interstate commerce commission to dismiss the petition of that road asking for a modification of the commission's order of May 8, 1928, permitting it to purchase 174,000 shares of Pere Marquette stock from the Nickel Plate at 133.33 per share instead of $110 per share stipulated by the commission.

Price Of Plot Is In Dispute

Buying Of Playground Site Along Big Run Is Being Held Up

Mayor William Gillespie today requested Solicitor Robert White to furnish an opinion relative to the condemnatiton of land owned by Hanna heirs along the Big Run which the city may acquire for playground purposes. A prominent citizen has promised to contribute toward the purchase should the city want the ground.

According to councilmen the owners will not set a price. The city can condemn the land but if the price is too prohibitive council does not feel like taking it.

There is a variance of opinion as to what the plot is worth. The city is not willing to pay any more than what they believe the land is worth.

If the owners will set a price council will buy direct from the owners, providing the price is considered fair. White's opinion will say whether the city can repeal the condemnation ordinance if it is discovered the purchase would be too high.

News Looks Like Big Flower Show

Harry Good Comes In From Enon With Lot Of Famous Blooms

At noon today Harry Good of Enon Valley brought a lot of gladoli into The News office and this afternoon the lobby of The News resembles a florist shop more than a newspaper plant.

Mr. Good who owns "Glad Haven" down at Enon has been raising gladoli for several years and is a specialist and master craftsman at his trade. He has over a hundred different varieties at his farm.

The gladoli in The News office are of four different varieties. There are some of the "Catharine Coleman's" which are a La France pink, others of the new Holland variety which are violet and still more of the rose mulberry and creamy yellow giant nymphs.

This assortment of colors makes a truly beautiful decoration for The News office and every one is invited to come in, for to see them is to appreciate them.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

WHAT CAME OF MINDING SOMEBODY ELSE'S BUSINESS.

"The merry sparkle in the little bird's eyes faded. The happy trill in his voice was gone. The feathers rose on his little head. Sparkle-Tail was offended at what Mrs. Bobolink had said.

"'Say, what busines is it of yours where I build my nest? Who are you to scold me for placing it as a trap for ugly old spider? I am Sparkle-Tail, the humming bird of Mexico and I know my trade, I tell you. I am doing just as my ancestors have done for generations and I'll allow no impertinent strangers to take me to task for it! The very idea of you two poking your beaks into my business. I will not fly away—you might harm my legs—but not another word do you get out of me if you hang around here all day. And if you take my advice you will fly away. It is not good manners to stay where you are not wanted.'

"Down upon the nest plumped the little bird and true to his word he never opened his beak again although I asked him several questions.

"I was provoked at Mrs. Bobolink for making the fellow angry. After all what business was it of ours what he did? He might have told us many interesting things if he had been in good humor, I scolded wife"—

"And I scolded back" chirped Mrs. Bobolink, chuckling at the recollection.

"And by and by we grew so cross that we just wouldn't speak to one another" continued her husband, ignoring the interruption. "We had flown in perfect silence for I don't know how many miles when I heard wife give a startled exclamation.

"'Look, Bob, look! What in the world is that bird running like that for? See there he goes around and around!'

"'He is terribly frightened,' cried I. 'And unless I am very much mistaken he has good reason to be. Do you notice that Two-Legs coming on Four-Legs? It seems to me that they are trying to ride him own."

"Mrs. Bobolink and I forgot all about our little spat and we watched with excited interest what was going on beneath us. Sure enough I had been right.

"A man on a gray horse was riding

"LOOK, BOB LOOK! WHAT IN THE WORLD IS THAT BIRD RUNNING LIKE THAT FOR" about in circles that grew narrower and narrower and brought him a little bit nearer to a poor bird who ran so fast that his legs twinkled (we could not see when his feet touched the ground) yet not a bit headway did that bird make for instead of starting off and running in a straight line away from the man and danger he ran around and around exactly as if he were caught in a trap and there was no way of escape."

Officials Probe Cause Of Blast At Dunmore, Pa.

(International News Service)

DUNMORE, Pa., Aug. 7.—Police aided by county detectives Monday were attempting to determine cause of the explosion which early Monday wrecked the home of Geno Simonette here. Fire followed the blast and destroyed the structure with an estimated loss of $8,000.

Members of the Simmonette family were not at home when the explosion shook the borough. The flames spread rapidly and firemen had difficulty in confining the blaze to one building.

Work Will Start On New Building

Penn State's Engineering Administration Unit Let To Contract

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 7.—Work will be started today on the new administration building of the school of engineering at the Pennsylvania State College, which is to replace the old structure which was consumed by fire in the fall of 1918, it is announced today by the Penn State College officials, following the letting of the contract Monday.

The building, together with its equipment, will cost in the neighborhood of $350,000 from the state appropriation, and is to be completed next spring. It will be of red brick with a white stone trimming, to conform with the rest of the engineering units.

Located partly on the site of the old engineering administration building on the west campus, just inside the main entrance to the college, the building will be four stories tall, the top floor being equipped with modern drafting room fittings for the department of agriculture. Forty-one offices, laboratories, classrooms and drawing rooms will be contained in the building.

Two Penn State graduates, Berkebile Brothers, of Johnstown, were awarded the contract by the board of trustees.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.— Reconstructing the brutal murder late yesterday of Mrs. Frank Mellus, 41, police detectives declared that the assailant struck the fatal blow with a whiskey bottle, crushing the woman's skull. Then, detectives declare, he attacked her body with cannibalistic fury.

Felt Miserable All Over Before Taking Konjola

Miseries Of Kidney Trouble And Sluggish Liver Ended By New Medicine.

MR. FRANK G. RUNKLE
Seavy Photo

Many people of this city who have suffered for years and were never able to find relief, are declaring that this new Konjola medicine restored them to health. In most cases, these people have stated that Konjola so completely ended their ailments that none of their old troubles returned and they have been able to quit taking medicine entirely. This accounts for the great stream of public testimonials which are coming from men and women of this vicinity, and received at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, where the Konjola Man is personally introducing and explaining this advanced remedy to crowds of people daily. One of the latest reports came from Mr. Frank G. Runkle, R. F. D. No. 1, Ellwood road, New Castle.

"Since taking Konjola I am free of every health trouble I ever had", said Mr. Runkle. "I am sure that there is not a better medicine in the drug store today to build up a completely rundown system."

"I have never been able to find out what made my condition so rundown. It seemed to me that the least exertion would completely tire me out. My liver was in a very sluggish condition and in spite of all kinds of laxatives that I would take, my system kept on being congested with the poisons of my body. My eyes had a yellowish color in them and the headaches used to bother me all the time. My kidneys were in a weak and condition also, and at night when I would go to bed I had to rise three or four times. This made it awful hard for me to get any rest at all and I would get up the next morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. Finally my health got so bad that I could not go to work and when I say that in two years time, I only worked 11 weeks, I am not exaggerating a bit. I had taken lots of medicines and they did not do me any good, and I was getting awful discouraged.

"I noticed in the paper one night where a case similar to mine had been relieved by Konjola and I decided to get some. I took it for only four days and I began to notice a great change in my health. I kept right on taking this medicine until I had completed a full treatment. Now my liver never bothers me at all and my bowels move with greater ease and freedom than ever before. My eyes are bright and clear now and those awful headaches that I formerly suffered are gone. My kidneys are well and strong now and when I go to bed at night, I can sleep right on thru until the next morning. When I get out of bed, I feel strong and healthy and all during the day I can work right thru without getting the least bit tired. My food digests right and I have a better appetite than before. I shall always strongly recommend Konjola so that others may gain the same benefits that I did.

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

SOME $16,000,000 AVAILABLE FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

(From News Bureau (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7.—Announcement by the Highway Department that it will have over $16,000,000 to spend on new construction for the fiscal year ending next May 31 will not be any boost for the third proposed highway bond issue to be voted on in November. That sum which the department expects to have wil come in from current revenues.

The expected surplus during the fiscal year is a third of what money would be obtained from a bond issue and wthout paying interest charges or sinking fund obligations. It will be sufficient to construct several hundred miles of new pavement.

In addition to the $16,000,000 the department has allowed $2,500,000 for state-aid construction. This must be matched by the counties which when done doubles the amount of money available for road building.

Carrying charges on the two road bond issues probably will be smaller during the 1929-31 biennium. The last legislature appropriated more than $14,000,000 from the motor fund to meet those expenses for the present biennium. As the bonds are paid off the money formerly needed for carrying charges can be used for road building and maintenance.

Increase consumption of gasoline also may add to the surplus available for new construction. The department expects $20,750,000 from that source during the year but that estimate may be low. The 1929 legislature probably will continue the three cent gas tax to continue road building since there will be about 4,500 miles of unimproved state roads in Pennsylvania at the close of the present contruction season.

Eagles' Delegates Are In Columbus

National Convention Of Eagles Is Now In Session In Ohio City

A. W. Longacre, secretary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in this city and Harry McCormick, past junior president, have gone to Columbus, O., where they will attend the week long national Eagles convention.

The convention proper started this morning with the business sessions. Yesterday was spent by the delegates in getting located at their hotels and registered at the convention. Several impromptu parades were held throughout the city yesterday by arriving delegates.

Last night at the first session Gov. A. V. Donahey of Ohio, welcomed the Eagles from all over the country to Ohio and to Columbus. Mayor James J. Thomas and convention chairman, Harry B. Lamon also gave welcoming addresses to the visitors.

Between 50,000 and 80,000 delegates are expected before the final parade next Saturday. Early yesterday morning delegates from every state in the union had arrived.

Nearly 2000 Attend Playground Session

Record Is Made At Carnegie Playground During Month Of July

The highest daily attendance of boys and girls recorded at the local playground of the Carnegie Steel company during the month of July registered 1923 an attendance that has been precedented but few times in the history of the playground according to Miss May Martin, supervisor of the amusement center.

Her report for the past month shows that there were several days during that month that had large attendances to their credit, with one, 1,384 and another claiming 1,164 children.

As the weather in July was much more favorable than it was in June the attendance was increased somewhat .During June the inclement weather held down the attendance, although there were one or two days in that month that had attendances of over the thousand mark.

Thieves Continue To Gather Loot At Mt. Jackson

During the week end, a great amount of petty thieving took place in the Mt. Jackson district, according to reports coming to The News.

Saturday evening, as Professor Howard Butler was entering the front door of his home, other persons were leaving by the rear door. Nothing was missed.

The same evening the home of John Douglas was broken into, and the thieves confiscated the trousers of Mr. Douglas, together with a watch and some small change which were in the pockets. It is also stated that other homes were tried on the same evening, but the thieves failed to make entrances.

Hart Gave Haid Start In Baseball

Will Be One Of Party Going To Pittsburgh, Friday, To Honor Local Player

One of the many New Castle fans who will go to Pittsburgh on Friday to attend the "Had" Haid celebration at Forbes Field will be Walter "Hub" Hart, veteran athlete of this city. Hub has a personal interest in the affair for he it was who first started Haid along the road that has led to a berth with what appears to be the champions of the National League this year, St. Louis.

After pitching amateur ball around New Castle a time, Hart took Haid to Mercer where he made his debut in the Mercer County League. In his first game Haid had nineteen strikeouts and during that season lost but one game.

From there Hart sent he and Gus Thompson to Bay City, Mich., where both boys made good. In the winter Haid came back to New Castle and spent a lot of time getting the advantage of Hart's long experience in professional baseball.

"He always was a smart pitcher" said Hub today in discussing Haid, "and if he had a stronger constitution I believe would be one of the country's best."

The general committee in charge of the Haid celebration will meet with Chairman John J. Maher tonight in the Leslie Hotel where the finishing touches will be put upon the arrangements. All sportsmen who are interested are asked to attend.

Coal Production Shows Increase

Record Coal Shipments In Monongahela Valley Are Indicated

GREAT LAKES TRADE GETTING MUCH COAL

By ROBERT L. WIPER
International News Service Special Correspondent

CHARLEROI, Pa., Aug. 7.—With the advent of materially lower wholesale prices in the central coal distributing markets during the past two weeks, record shipments out of the Monongahela Valley were expected to establish new high tonnage marks this week.

Developments looking toward conclusion of the bituminous coal strike have given impetus to production throughout the territory and 24 or more of the 29 available river and rail shipping mines are operating this week.

Charleroi mine of the Y. and O. Coal Company, latest to join the group of " big production" mines, is expected to show a daily output of 2,000 tons before the end of the month.

Shire Oaks scales, at the Elrama yards of the Pennsylvania railroad expected a new record before tomorrow for the number of cars shipped out of the valley. The present record, 962 cars in 16 hours, was established last Wednesday, equalling war time shipments.

River coal tonnage is running 90 per cent. of normal with the anticipation that capacity shipping will result this week.

Eclipse mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, idle for seven years, is expected to get under operations within the present month. There is considerable cleaning to do, but it is likely that normal production will be under way shortly after resumption. The Eclipse mine, at Elco, normally employes 700 men.

Soudan mine of the Valley Camp Coal Company, at Van Voorhis, is producing 1,400 tons per day with 250 men on the payroll. The Bethlehem Mines Corporation operations, concentrated around Bentleyville, are producing an aggregate of 5,500 tons a day each with 800 men employed in three mines.

Gallatin mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, Ella Mine of the Hillman interests and Crucible, of the Crucible Company are running even for high average output with approximately 2400 tons mined in each pit daily.

The H. C. Frick Company is extending its interest in the Brownsville section. Sixty-five acres of nine-foot seam of Connellsville coal was purchased by Frick from the Atlas Coal Company, Luzerne township last Friday. The consideration is understood to have been approximately $140,000.

Greene county development, especially in and around the Nemacolin, Richeyville and Mather sections, will throw the brunt of additional coal shipping on the Pennsylvania railroad and the boats which ply the Monongahela. Richeyville mine, latest Washington county development, is expected to be producing 3,500 tons of coal before fall.

Coal buyers, especially in the Great Lakes trade, are calling for selective grades of Monongahela valley coal, producers in this field claim. Contrasted with the wholesale purchase of coal earlier in the year, buying now is on a strictly selective basis.

Duquesne Works Visitors Watch Playground Work

Phillip G. Fenlon and David Davis of the safety department of the Duquesne works of the Carnegie Steel company were recent visitors at the local playground of the company on South Jefferson street.

Both expressed their approval of the frolic center and remarked that they were well pleased with it. They were especially gratified with the way the playground is conducted and the morale of the older boys of the playground.

Boys Of Y. M. C. A. Begin Crusade To Save Old Ironsides

Boys of the Y. M. C. A. are starting to canvass the city to sell pictures of "Old Ironsides," historic war vessel of the war of 1812. The proceeds of the sale are to go toward the rebuilding of the historic old ship which is rotting in the Boston shipyard.

The vessel which was built in 1797 was first used to capture French privateers in the West Indies. When the war of 1812 was started, it was used as a battle ship. It is most noted for its battle with the British Guerriere.

The old ship has been rebuilt once, but it is sadly inneed of repair again. As there was no way to aid its upkeep excepting by personal subscription, this method has been resorted to.

However in place of the personal subscription, the selling of pictures of the Constitution will be done. A beautiful reproduction of the painting by Gordon Grant. It is in full colors and is 18¾ inches by 22¾ inches.

The members of the boys division are not selling for profit. They are doing it only as a patriotic duty to save this historic old ship from destruction.

Post Cards From Europe

by William Ivy

PARIS, Aug. 7.—The sad lot of a French President has often been moaned over by sympathetic observers. He has less liberty than a monarch. He may not attend the theater—except a state theater. He may not visit his friends. He is not even allowed to receive them at the Elysee palace if their political affiliations are not just right. And while an American president is practically obliged to go to church every Sunday the president of the French Republic dare not enter a religious edifice even as a tourist, to look at the stained glass.

And besides the hundred things he must not do, there are the thousands things that he must. Most of them are exceedingly tedious. Especially when they require long train trips, for M. Doumergue hates travelling.

The climax was reached when a few days ago President Doumergue had two official duties to perform in the same region. One was the inauguration of the new Transpyrenean railroad, in company with the King of Spain. It meant a tiresome all-night train journey. Two days later the president was to speak at the bi-millenary celebration at Carassonne, only a few miles away.

Any kind of logic would have suggested that the president should do both on the same trip, with a night of repose in his native Midi in between. But presidential protocol has nothing to do with such simple reasonings.

It was pointed out that by so doing M. Doumergue would surely offend the King of Spain as it would look to him as if the president attended the inauguration only because he had to go down that way anyhow. And he would also offend the people of Carcassonne, who would comment that he had deigned to honor their festival simply because it was convenient.

So the poor president to prove to each that he was traveling all the way for them alone, had to return to Paris after the railroad dedication and then take the next train back again on the same line. And it all happened in the hottest weather that France has had since 1921.

Small wonder that few French presidents stisk to the job for the full seven years.

New York Society Woman Recoups Her Wealth In Liquor

Internationally Known Society Matron Earns Million In Liquor Traffic

On Rocks At One Time, Now Owns Florida Mansion And All Through Bootleg Activity

By RUTH RIDENOUR
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—If Uncle Sam intends to indict the ladies for taking the 18th amendment lightly he has a big job ahead of him. Night club hostesses do business in miniature compared to certain Park avenue debutantes and their mothers.

There is one lady, whose name is known across this continent and Europe, one of our most distinguished society matrons who figures more prominently at Newport than in Bradstreets. In fact, until prohibition she had a great deal of grief the first of every month when her mail indicated very pointedly that her tastes were on a higher scale than her bank account.

Suddenly Grows Wealthy

She played the market for a while, but her capital was too limited to bring anything but more sorrow out of that. At present she is at Saratoga. Last winter she was in Florida. She has quite a neat little palace there, acquired since she made friends with a certain bootlegger.

A good third of the social register when their cellar gets that dry, empty look, call for an extra unlisted phone in this lady's apartment. Her butler answers and takes the orders. Butler relays the message to his mistress' "office", a storeroom on Third avenue, guarded by a trusty yegg with several messenger boys within call, and the man gets his stuff. The lady's business is well organized and she has nothing to do with it now but deposit the cash which the bootlegger delivers to her. He gets half.

She has a dinner party and the champagne is "divine", according to the guests. Certain ones buy a thousand dollars worth a month or even more than bootleggers. When they admire her champagne she confides her bootlegger's number.

Makes Over Million

Her bootlegger has a Cadillac town car, several tuxedos and is the chorus girl's delight. Last year she bought a boat and now imports her own stuff from Bermuda, Canada, Italy, anywhere. She made over a million in three years and has a secretary to care for such trivial matters as first-of-the-month mail. She started on a capital of 50 dollars.

Her ship has been pinched twice. It had a cargo of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of liquor on board.

A certain debutante of yesteryear is in the same racket. Her name lends prestige to any function she attends. A couple of years ago she opened an antique shop and the world was impressed at sight of an aristocrat turned shopkeeper.

Watches for Shipment

She doesn't know Paisley from Chinese and thinks jade is a feeling instead of a jewel. Her shop is haunted with matrons from the sticks who buy a forty dollar lamp shade and consider that a cheap price to view one of the four hundred. The matrons paid to look at a little girl from their part of the country. Miss Social Register herself never appears at her shop. She is busy seeing that her "stock" arrives in port and that enough early American chairs, Persian rugs and quaint pottery accompany it to fool the revenue officers.

Somebody died a year or a little over ago. He was a "power" in Wall street. Men of the financial standing of Charles Schwab, J. P. Morgan, Chauncey Depew, Charles Sabin and Otto Kahn attended his funeral, mourning sincerely.

A few weeks later his widow looked over her assets and liabilities. The latter were several up on the first. She had a son in college. A likable lad with a future on the football team. He'd been accustomed to life's cream and she dreaded change of diet for him. Their home is in the rather swank neighborhood of sixties.

Jack knew nothing of his mother's predicament. Nobody did until she was out of it and confided to this reporter.

Her husband left a big bill with his bootlegger—$6,500. That bothered her and she invited the bootlegger over for tea and told him she couldn't pay it—might never be able to pay it. He knew her position and name. Within half an hour the arrangement was made. No one knows her husband had lost the family fortune overnight, son made the football team at college and mother drove over in an imported town car (paid for) to witness the event.

Her system is just like the first Mrs. So-and-So's. All she does is send the customers and collect.

Governor Smith Would Suppress Race Gambling

Issues Notice To Saratoga Springs Authorities; Orders State Police To Make Probe

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Governor Al Smith today took steps to suppress gambling at Saratoga Springs where one of the greatest racing meets in the country is now in full swing.

In a letter to three officials of Saratoga, Sheriff William N. Cromie, District Attorney John B. Smith and Commissioner of Public Safety Edward Sweeney, the governor announced that he had received a complaint that gambling and vice were flourishing at the famous summer resort.

The governor served notice on the officials that he had ordered members of the state constabulary to police the city in civilian clothes and to investigate gambling and vice conditions there.

If the state police find that gambling and vice are rampant in Saratoga the governor bluntly told the three officials that it would form the basis for charges looking toward their removal.

Governor Fuller Strong For Hoover

Sees Era Of Prosperity With Election Of Hoover As President

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 7.—Pittsburgh played host today to Massachusetts' governor, who believes that the presidency is none too good for Herbert Hoover.

"Hoover is too good for the presidency. He's the best man in the country for the job" Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Bay state executive, said as he donned his golf togs for a game here. Enroute to West Baden, Ind., the governor prophesied that Hoover will bring an era of prosperity to the country.

Governor Fuller said he had the highest regard for Gov. Al. Smith, "but I don't think he is as good a man for the presidency as Hoover."

The governor was a guest of I. L. Burke, of Pittsburgh today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hosford of Norwood avenue, have gone to East End, Pittsburgh, to attend the funeral of the latter's cousin, Miss Mary K. Reiber.

Treasurers Are Asked To Cease License Issues

County Treasurers Asked To Cease Hunting License Issues Till Special Plates Arrive

MODIFY RULING ON KILLING OF DOE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7.—Treasurers of 54 counties in the state today were instructed to cease issuing hunting licenses until they have been provided with special plates which will permit the holders to kill a doe.

The order from the State Game commission here today followed the decision last night to again modify the ruling which will legalize killing of does next December.

Under the commission's latest decision, backed by a special decision requested from James W. Shull, one of the deputy attorney generals, the number of doe which may be shot in each county next December will be eight times that of the buck reported killed last season. County treasurers will be furnished with only the fixed number of plates.

Hunters who obtained licenses with the belief that the tag would entitle them to kill a doe as determined by a previous ruling of the commission will be refunded the $2.00 they have paid. If they still have a desire to shoot a doe, the county treasurer will issue them a regular hunting license for $2.00 and, if there are any available, a special doe license which will cost another $2.00.

Land owners who wish to hunt on their own ground during the special season may obtain doe licenses free of cost from county game protectors.

Ready Next Month

John B. Truman, executive secretary of the commission, said that the special license plates will be in the hands of county treasurers late next month. They will be issued up to the legal total in the order in which applications for them are received by the county treasurers. Licenses to shoot doe will be good only in the county in which issued.

Infant Paralysis Is Normal For '28

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7. — "The dreaded infantile paralysis, which in 1927 very closely assumed the proportions of an epidemic in Pennsylvania, has dropped this year to normal figures," Dr. J. Moore Campbell chief of the bureau of communicable diseases, of the State Health Department, said today.

Only forty-one cases had been reported this year—to August 1. They were scattered through eighteen counties. Seven cases were reported in July from the counties of Cambria, Columbia, Erie, Philadelphia, Washington and York. Lancaster county, which suffered so severely last year, has had but one case, reported in February from a rural district near the Berks county line.

"Although infantile paralysis is a warm weather disease, with a normally higher incidence during the months of August and September, we are encouraged to believe that the experience of 1927 will not be repeated," Dr. Campbell said.

HOOVER PARLEY IN PITTSBURGH

Conference Under Way On G. O. P. Campaign In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH Aug. 7.—The first of three conferences during which the groundwork for the Republican party's Pennsylvania campaign is being laid, today occupied A. Boyd Hamilton, assistant to Gen. Edward Martin, state Republican chairman and five others of the G. O. P. high command.

Out of the three conferences—the one today and two to follow in Harrisburg and Philadelphia, Hamilton hopes to bring a concerted plan for a bid for the state's votes.

With Hamilton in the executive conference were Joseph Barton of Philadelphia, publicity director of the state committee; Frank J. Gorman, secretary to Gov. John S. Fisher; Robert H. Ginter of Harrisburg and James D. Sanson and John E. Mckirdy of Pittsburgh.

We are carrying on these meetings and gathering ideas so that we will be able to present to General Martin sufficient material to get the campaign under way as soon as possible" Hamilton said.

MANY THANKS

"Do I understand," said the young man, "that you absolutely decline to let me marry your daughter?"

"I do," replied her father firmly.

"Sir," said the young man, reaching for his hat, "will you shake hands on parting?"

"Of course," said the father, surprised. "And I am glad to see that you take your disappointment so well."

"Yes," said the young man; "and if you'll allow me, I am going to send you a box of cigars, too. You don't know how near that daughter of yours came to having me hooked."—From Answers, London.

Sound And Color

By S. S. MYERS

A tongue of steel set in a solid base may be made to vibrate. Suppose we take this instrument and shut ourselves in a room where light and sound are excluded. Placing it upon a table—say in the center of the room, we go off to one side and sit down.

Now, suppose an unseen hand should start the tongue to vibrating, slowly at first but gradually increasing in speed. At first we would hear and see nothing, but when the tongue has attained a speed of 15 vibrations per second we would hear a low, faint, buzzing sound, gradually rising through all of the chromatic tones, octave after octave until the vibrations reach 3,500 per second which is about the highest tone on a piano and the highest pitch an ordinary human ear can distinguish, although there are persons who cannot hear the higher tones of a piano.

But the steel tongue, after having produced all of the tones that the ear is able to distinguish, keeps on vibrating faster and faster and for a time we hear and see nothing. But, keeping our eyes fixed in the direction of the instrument, we finally see a faint, dull red glow of light which grows brighter and brighter as the vibrations increases, passing from dull red to bright red, then white and on up through all colors disappearing in the violet rays where the human eye refuses to follow.

Thus it will be seen that sound and color are one and the same thing, depending upon the rapidly of the vibrations. Incidentally it will be observed that between the highest vibration that can be heard and the lowest that can be seen there is a vast space practically unknown wherin scientists are delving for new discoveries with the result that television will eventually be perfected. But we may look for other discoveries equally as astonishing.

This brings us to the point we wish to make, namely, that sound is all in the ear and color is all in the eye. The tone of the piano, the report of a gun or a peal of thunder all produce vibrations, but if the ear drums do not respond to those vibrations there is no sound. In the same way color is all in the eye. The rays of light produce vibrations to which the retina of the eye responds.

If an object absorbs none of the rays of light it produces no vibrations and appears to our eyes as black. If it absorbs all of the rays of light it appears white. We say that a certain leaf of foliage is green and another red. But the fact is there is no color in the leaf. The one absorbs more of the rays of light than the other hence it appears red while the other appears green. If the retina of the eye fails to respond properly to the vibrations that person is either color blind or has persistent vision.

There are two kinds of color blindness.

In one case the person can never distinguish between colors, but in the other case it is different. For example if you were to place a green light before a person afflicted with persistent vision and ask him to name the color he would tell you it is green, but if you were to remove the green light suddenly and place a red one before him he would pronounce it green also. Then, take away both lights and replace the red one and he will tell you it is red. But change the light quickly and he will see it as red.

Often times pupils in our public schools who fail to make progress and are considered dull or brainless are troubled with persistent vision. I once entered a third grade schoolroom and, while talking with the teacher she quietly informed me that she had lost patience with a certain little girl in the class who was so dull she could not learn to read. "Sometimes, said she, "she gets a word right, but the next time she get it all wrong."

I went to the blackboard and placed thereon the letter C. Then turning to the little girl I asked her to name the letter. She promptly said "C". I then placed the letter O besides it and she told me it was C also. Erasing both letters I placed O on the board. She promptly replied "O". I placed C besides it and she just as promptly called it O. I suggested to the teacher that she have the child's parents take the little girl to an occulist. What is true of persistent vision is also true in hearing. There are persons who cannot distinguish between tones because of the persintency of vibrations. To such persons music is anything but pleasing. General Grant could not distinguish between tones. He once remarked that he only knew two tones. "One" said he "is Yanky doodle and the other—isn't." And he added that he never could be sure which tune the band was playing.

Customer—Have you a book on salesmanship?

Book Clerk—Yah—(yawn)— we've got one. Look around and maybe you'll see it. I haven't read it myself.

Customer—I should say you haven't.

Complaint Against Railroad Dismissed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7.—Complaint brought by the Nicholas Wire, Sheet and Hardware Co. against the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, charging excessive rates for transportation of wire products from Woodlawn to Monaca, was dismissed by the public service commission Monday.

The commission said that study of the evidence presented failed to establish that the present rates are unreasonable.

This is the quietest presidential summer in many years. There hasn't even been anything that president Coolidge didn't have anything to say about.

Vare Is Much Better Today

Senator-Elect William S. Vare Slowly Recovering; Develops Appetite

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7.—United States Senator-Elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania has developed a hearty appetite and his condition is "more hopeful," it was announced early today by Dr. Elwood R. Kirby. Dr. Kirby has been attending the senator-elect since Vare suffered a paralytic stroke at his summer home near here last week.

Vare is not aware that his left side is partially paralyzed, but suspects there is "something wrong" with his left hand, Dr. Kirby said.

"Mr. Vare is a shade better," he added. "His temparture is normal now. His blood pressure is within the lines of safety. His reflexes have returned. There is motion in his left foot and his right knee jerks back again."

Dr. Kirby said that the senator's principal complaint at present is that he is not being fed enough.

It was learned that Francis S. Brown, Vare's counsel, has requested Senator Charles Waterman, of Colorado, in charge of the United States senatorial committee investigating campaign funds and elections to postpone the hearing set for August 15th in Pittsburgh, at which Senator Vare was to appear.

Blackmer Warrant Is Explained To French Officials

Agent Of United States Treasury Explains Blackmer Warrant To Frenchmen

(International News Service)

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Arthur Diebert, an agent of the United States Treasury Department, called upon the ministry of justice today to explain the warrant which has been issued for the arrest of Henry M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome witness.

Blackmer is not wanted in connection with the Teapot Dome inquiry, but is accused in the Federal court at Denver, Colo., of perjury. Blackmer is alleged to have perjured himself in making out an income tax paper.

Diebert told the French officials that Blackmer's alleged crime falls under the state of limitations, but is not yet outlawed. He said that the warrant is good for three more years before the statute of limitations voids it.

Last Period At Camp Phillips

Largest Class Of Candidates For Eagle Scout Medals

The fourth and last camping period of the season at Camp Phillips began Monday morning when Camp Director Leroy M. Norton and his aides gave the scout hand clasp of welcome to over 50 campers, many of whom were re-registering, others coming for the first time with luggage and scout paraphernalia.

After being billeted to their respective huts Camp Director Norton held personal interviews with the boys in order to assign them to such instruction periods and the proper examiners that they might without exception advance in scout ranks before the final period is over.

All the scouts have been working hard mastering the various subjects for advancement and many have been all summer campers and by earnest study of scouting and practice of the scout ideals are already to be the proud possessors of the Eagle scout badge. It is a long trail and the camp director announces that this class is the largest at any time to be ready to receive the highest insignia in scoutcraft.

The scouts to be thus rewarded and honored are John Boston, Junior Brown, Harold Charbonnier, James Charbonnier, Harvey Clyde, Bob Jamison, Jack Hancher, Bob Kennedy, Dave Nesbitt, Tedd Ropp, Clyde Shannon, John Watson, Fritz Wettich and Bill Wheeler.

The comp welcomed today its prodigals Bob Jamison and John Hancher who were honor visitors at Camp Kiondeshawa of the Mercer county scout council.

James Metzler and Bill McKim reported on their tour of near-by camps and while they have words of praise for many features observed during their visits they extoll the more beauty and organization of Camp Phillips.

A real baseball game added zest to the afternoon. Under Captains Bob Jamison and Junior Brown the boys played a fine game which was hotly contested. Jamison's team was composed of Lutz, Brown, Wheeler, Lockhart, Succin, Lewis and MacLaren. Brown's line up was as follows: Agges, Charbonnier, Nesbit, Hays, Wilson, Morrison and Bentrim. Umpires McKim and Enfield. The score Jamison's 12, Brown's 11.

Bob Shields of Koppel, veteran camper the first winner in the merit badge contest last spring came back for another stay. He will represent Lawrence county at the Eastern States exhibition in Springfield, Mass. this autumn.

A popular place at Camp Phillips is the mess hall where wholesome and plentiful meals are prepared by Mrs. W. G. Ayres and Mrs. Stimple at present on vacation and substituted by Mrs. J. L. Calahan.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the Siam-ee-oo and his royal company arrived at camp to initiate the new campers into the Royal Order and were preceded by a colorful parade of chief priests, heralds, dancers and attendants.

This initiatory rites are a great event which takes place on the banks of the Slippery Rock where the ceremony ends with the offering of a sacrifice the victim making an impressive swan dive from a lofty rock and disappearing in the waters illuminated by red glares placed on small rafts.

Pittsburgh District Is Interested In New Iron And Steel Rates

Proposed Readjustment Of Freight Rates On Iron And Steel Will Be Benefit

Interstate Commerce Commission Now Has Proposition For Approval

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—The effect on the Pittsburgh district of the proposed readjustment of freight rates on iron and steel, now before the interstate commerce commission for approval was still somewhat hazy today as the tariff division of the Chamber of Commerce here continued to study the report which was submitted in Washington by Examiners Howard C. Faul and C. M. Bardwell.

It was generally believed, however, as it was when the report was first submitted last week, that the Pittsburgh district will benefit immeasurably from the readjustment should the interstate commerce commission place its stamp of approval on it.

In analyzing the report submitted by Examiners Faul and Bardwell, the tariff division of the local Chamber of Commerce discovered that largest steel consumers are those states that are the largest steel producers.

Approximately 90 per cent of the United States steel production, it was revealed, takes place in that territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river. The states included in this territory are also the largest consumers of the product, Pennsylvania alone consuming 21.7 per cent. The state of Illinois consumes 14.32, while Ohio consumes 9.7, New York 5.31 per cent and the New England states 3.75 per cent.

Railroads Lead

Railroads, it was revealed, consume more steel products than any other business, with building construction ranking second and the automobile industry third.

Members of the tariff division of the Chamber of Commerce plan to spend about a week in studying the report, which consists of data gathered during the last two years.

It is foreseen that should the interstate commerce commission approve of the readjustment, not only will Pittsburgh and the western Pennsylvania district be affected, but that the whole iron and steel rate structure will be reconstructed. It will provide a new rate basis for all iron and steel products.

This will affect the three geographical divisions of the iron and steel territory, which are described as eastern, middle and western.

The eastern division, as outlined in the report is composed of eastern New York, New Jersey, New England, eastern Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware. The middle division is composed of the Buffalo district of New York, western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. The western division includes western Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Minor Traffic Accident Occurs At East And Washington Streets

Only two traffic accidents were reported to the New Castle police department Monday afternoon and evening, the reports reveal.

Wolford Fahley of Cleveland, driving a Cleveland-Pittsburgh bus, reports that when he was about to turn into East street from East Washington Monday evening he collided with a car driven by Iona B. Coates of 375 Neshannock avenue. The Coates car was turning into Neshannock avenue. Some damage was done to the smaller machine.

Small damage was done to the machine of Samuel T. Tieche of 125 Euclid avenue when it was hit by the machine of Edward Hill of 214 North Mulberry street at the intersection of Croton avenue and East Washington street Monday evening.

Large Windows Of Store Broken

The large front window of the store of M. R. Druschel of 759 Arlington avenue was broken, but nothing is missing, is the report of Officers Letera, J. Young and Kennedy, who investigated a call which brought them to the store at 11:20 Monday evening.

After ascertaining that no goods were stolen, the officers toured the neighborhood looking for suspicious characters, but none were found.

They call Neal Dow the father of prohibition, but some credit goes to those who Neal Down.

Complete Plans For Reynoldstown School Reunion

Old Timers To Gather At Old Pearson Street School Next Tuesday

Get ready to be at the Pearson Street school building at one o'clock Tuesday, as that's the day the Reynoldstown school reunion is to be held. The "old bell" will again summon all those who attended the school prior to 1890. All arrangements have been compited for this twenty first gathering.

With regards to the picnic, the ladies of the association have always been very kind more than generous in providing an extra amount in their baskets for at least two extra strangers, from out of town, and local unfortunates who are without homes or families. Ladies are asked to bring a small pitcher or coffee pot for service on the tables. Coffee, sugar, cream and ice cream as well as the paper plates will be furnished free by the association. Bring baskets to the school and if the afternoon should be stormy the picnic supper will be served at the building in much the same manner as was done two years ago.

Conveyances will be furnished to all those who are unable to walk to the meeting and park and return to their homes. All who require this service please get in touch immediately with Mrs. Pollock, the secretary, who is temporarily located at 235 Sheridan avenue, or call phone 754.

All Reynoldstowners should be there, as this is one occasion where members insist on leaving a sick bed to attend.

High Temperature Recorded Saturday

Thermometer Jumps To 93 Degrees; One Inch Of Rain Falls

Saturday, August 4, was the hottest day on record last week, with a high temperature of 93 degrees, according to B. F. Johnson of the weather bureau at the pumping station.

The first part of last week started out by being rather cool at 74 degrees. But, the thermometer rose steadily during the week until the high temperature was recorded.

The average high temperature of the week, according to the report, was 84.4 degrees, while the mean low temperature was 58.9 degrees. Just one inch of rain fell during the week. Three days were clear, and the rest party cloudy.

PLAINGROVE

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Young Women's missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Sarah Brown on Thursday, August 2. The following program was rendered:

Song—"For Noble Duty."
Prayer—Mrs. McClung.
Service in Freedmen Work—Ruth Adams.
The New Indian—Jennie Blevins.
North American Indian—Gertrude McKissick.
The Changed Basis of Appeal — Elizabeth McNulty.
What the state is doing for Negro Education—Ethel Pollock.
Closing song—"God is King."
Closed by Lord's Prayer.

The hostess then served a delicious lunch. Two new members, the Misses Agnes and Margaret McClung, were taken into the society. Visitors present were Mrs. McClung, Mrs. Eckles and the Misses Eliza and Mary Carson.

Plaingrove Notes

The Misses Nettie and Martha McCommons have sold their farm to James Gargis.

Miss Mary Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emett Moore was operated upon for appendicitis at the Grove City hospital recently. Her condition is favorable.

Miss Blanche Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gardner, who has been suffering with inflamatory rheumatism, is improving.

Paul Dickenson, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Dickenson, was operated upon at the New Castle hospital Saturday. His condition is as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Lois Stevenson and baby have been discharged from the Grove City hospital.

The annual Book reunion was held at George's grove on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Book and family of New Castle have been camping at George's grove for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stevenson, and son, of Farrell spent the past week end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Shoaff.

Miss Lois and Miss Elizabeth Hamilton spent the week end at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Ed. Rodgers, of Mercer.

Miss Lois Pollock and Miss Louise Miles have returned from a trip to State College and Gettysburg, where they motored with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Barnes of Conneaut.

Special Bean Supper For Y. M. C. A. Boys

There will be a special bean dinner at the Y. M. C. A. for all members of the boys' division tomorrow night, Wednesday, August 8, at 530. All members are asked to come and to bring a friend.

A special program has been arranged by Johnny Leonard, director of the boys' division, and it is being kept a secret. A real surprise is in store for the boys.

The charge to the members will be ten cents. Reservations for the bean feed can be made by phone or personally until 9 o'clock this evening.

TIRE STOLEN

While he was attending the fight at Jolly bowl Monday evening some one stole the spare tire, the rim and the inner tube from his car which was parked in a Sampson street alley, is the report made to the New Castle police by Kenneth McCaslin of 142 Park avenue.

A kid has to be big enough to take care of himself nowadays before he can hang onto his mother's skirts.—The Moberly, Mo., Monitor-Index and Democrat.

Lone Drunk Sent Home By Mayor

One drunk, brought up from the cells in a thoroughly weakened condition, was all that appeared before Mayor William H. Gillespie in daily police court this morning.

Perhaps it was because he had never been in the clutches of the law before, or perhaps it was because of his condition, but anyway the mayor ordered the case dismissed, and the man went home further to sober up and then go to work.

COMING CAMPAIGN VITAL TO WORKINGMEN'S PAYROLL

Some Statistics To Show Difference In Wages In United States And Other Countries

Tariff Needed To Protect U. S. Industry Figures Reveal Clearly

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The contention of Republican party leaders that the tariff and its effect upon the payroll of the American workingman is the vital issue in the coming presidential campaign is borne out in a comparison of wages paid in various occupations in the United States.

The survey made by the department of labor shows that wages per hour in the United States have steadily increased since 1922 until in 1926 they were 129 per cent higher than the pre-war year, 1913.

Pennsylvania industries have been considerably handicapped by the influx of foreign products made at a low wage scale. There has been a general demand for a revision of the tariff upwards for many commodities which are now being imported from Europe at low tariff and sold in competition with American-made articles.

The difference in wages in the United States and various foreign countries for bricklayers, carpenters, laborers, coal miners, farm hands and common laborers is as follows:

The daily wage of bricklayers reported for Austria is $1.39, Belgium $1.32, France $1.57, Germany $1.84, and the United States $12.56. Carpenters, Belgium $1.36, Czechoslovakia $1.12, England $2.96, Germany $1.86, Italy $1.82 and the United States $10.16.

Laborers in the building trades, Austria $1.12, Belgium $0.91, Germany $1.47, Italy $0.80, Norway $1,88, Sweden $3.09 and the United States $4. Coal miners, Britain $2.02 to $2.65 and the United States $6.26 to $9.65.

Farm hands, France $1.05, Germany $0.56, Great Britain $1.27, Norway $1.28 and the United States $3.26. Rolling mill heaters, Germany $1.81 to $4.57, Great Britain $4.36 and the United States $7.60. Rolling mill common laborers, Germany $1.40 to $2.07, Great Britain $1.61 to $1.64 and the United States $3.28.

Nine of the 21 establishments reporting to the department of commerce as manufacturers of felt hats were from Pennsylvania. The report shows the production of wool felt hats for 1927 to be 18.2 per cent higher than the figures for 1925 with the products having a value of $10,574,708.

Gradual increase in the importation of cement into the United States during the first six months is shown in a report of the department of commerce. During the recent six-month period 1,336,827 barrels were imported as compared with 1,004,649 barrels for the corresponding period in 1927. Belgium was the principal exporter and the Pennsylvania cement trade has been actively engaged in an effort to get a tariff revision which will protect the industry in America. During June there were 266,537 barrels imported as compared with 129,111 barrels in June, 1927.

Thirty-two of the 135 miners killed in the coal mines of the United States during June died as the result of accidents in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania, according to a report of the bureau of mines of the department of commerce. The other 103 deaths occurred in the bituminous mines in various states. During the first months of the year there were 1,128 fatalities showing a death rate of 4.16 per million tons of coal mined. In the anthracite field there were 227 deaths with 37,103,000 tons of coal mined, or a fatality rate of 6.12 per cent, as compared with 278 fatalities with 40,897,000 tons mined a death rate of 6.80 per cent, for the first six months of 1927. The record for bituminous coal alone was 901 deaths and 234,289,000 tons mined as compared with 947 deaths and 276,629,000 tons mined in 1927.

The vital importance of aircraft in the national defense program will bring about a limitation of airplane carriers by the naval powers when they meet in Washington in 1932, in the opinion of Congressman Britten of Illinois, who has succeeded the late Congressman Thomas S. Butler of Pennsylvania as chairman of the house committee on naval affairs.

Congressman Britten predicts that the present ratio of limitation of naval strength between the United States, Great Britain, Japan, Italy and France will be reinstated and he believes Great Britain will seek to have established a limit on airplane carriers as well as the planes themselves.

Little need for regulating the work of newspaper carriers was found by the children's bureau of the department of labor as the result of a study of children in street work in various cities of the country. Newspaper carrying by boys in schools was held to be an aid in character training and developed qualities that made for success in school.

DRY ORGANIZATIONS ALL ENDORSE HOOVER

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Herbert Hoover has received the endorsement of the executive committee of the 31 national dry organizations which united efforts to have prohibition planks into the Republican and Democratic platforms.

The results of the Republican convention were completely satisfactory, said the committee. "Herbert Hoover is committed not only to enforcement but also against the repeal of the 18th amendment."

The most original man in this neighborhood hasn't shifted his party allegiance yet.

German Woman Swimmer Sets Olympic Mark

Fraulein Schrader Of Germany Beats Agnes Geraghty In 200-Metre Breast Stroke

MISS HELEN MEANY INJURES HER HEAD

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, Amsterdam, Aug. 7.—Fraulein Schrader, Germany, set up a new world's record for the 200-metre breast stroke by winning her heat from Agnes Geraghty, New York in 3:11 3-5 in the Olympic swimming championships today.

The record was 3:18 2-5 made by Miss M. Baron, Holland, in 1926. Miss Geraghty was ten yards back of the new record holder at the finish of the heat.

Just before the German girl started her record race Miss Helen Meany, New York, foremost diver, cut her head painfully in practicing on the diving board, the injury requiring several stitches. The injury proved to be a minor one however and Miss Meany announced immediately that she would not let it interfere with her competition.

In the regular stadium quite a stir was occasioned by the appearance of Queen Wilhelmina in the royal box for the first time during the games. She watched with interest the parade of gymnasts from Holland, Hungary and Germany and a mass-drill then put on directly afterward.

Court Presents Three Opinions

Judge R. L. Hildebrand Hands Down Decisions In Three Cases

Three opinions were filed today by Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, disposing of cases that had been heard by the court. The first one dismissed the exceptions to the election of the widow in the estate of the late John Griffith and confirmed the election absolutely.

The second opinion was in the case of Tony Quintiliano aginst the House of Savoia and concerned an expulsion of Quintiliano from the organization to which he took exceptions. After citing several authorities in the case Judge Hildebrand said that he would permit the defendants 15 days to file any corrections or amendments they might have as the case in its present shape is rather indefinite as to the power of the organization to expel a member.

In the case of H. L. Braham vs. the Stinard-Hannon Company, now for use of the Colonial Finance Trust, Elrick H. Scarazzo, trading and doing business as State Auto Sales Company and Michael J. Pazzo, judgement non obstante veredicto, which means judgement notwithstanding the verdict is ordered for the defendants and against the plaintiff upon payment of the jury fees.

Mystery Animal To Be In Parade

Arrangements Made To Exhibit "The Pride Of Naseau" On Wednesday

For some time an animal of some sort has been doing considerable damage about the Win Moore's camp on the Nassua road, leading off the Wilmington road. The animal has been stealing chickens, dogs and has been making life miserable for the residents of that section. This is indeed a wild territory.

A day or so ago traps were laid for the invader and it was captured alive. It is a large wooly animal and has excited the curiosity of all who have seen it. It is believed to have escaped from some carnival company and may have traveled a long distance before coming to this section.

Quite a few people have seen it but no one has been able to give it a name, so it has been called the "What Is It." Name it and you can have it. It sleeps most any old place, in trees, in barns, hen coops or in field. It is quite large and shaggy and walks on all fours.

When W. A. Taylor learned of the mysterious animal, he visited the Moore camp and secured permission to use it in the Scottish Rite parade. He has secured a cage and a wagon for the occasion and believes it will prove most interesting for spectators.

State-Wide Publicity Campaign For Republicans Is Now Under Way

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 7.—The ground work of a state-wide publicity campaign in behalf of the Republican ticket was being laid here today in a conference between A. Boyd Hamilton, newly appointed secretary of the state senate, and five other Republican leaders.

Those who met with Hamilton were Joseph Barton, of Philadelphia, publicity director of the state Republican committee; Frank J. Gorman, secretary to Gov. John S. Fisher; Robert H. Ginter, of Harrisburg; John E. McKirdy, Pittsburgh and James D. Sanson, Pittsburgh the latter two directors of publicity for western Pennsylvania.

Doctor Asserts Vare Is Not Yet Out Of Danger

Will Require Two Or Three More Days To Determine Conclusions

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7.—Dr. John J. Shaw, Philadelphia physician who is at the bedside of Senator-Elect William S. Vare, critically ill at his home in Chelsea, near here, today issued the following bulletin on Vare's condition:

"Mr. Vare's condition is much improved. He has held the ground gained in the past 48 hours. He is resting comfortably. The next two days will permit of more definite conclusions."

Dr. Shaw added that Vare was not yet out of danger.

East Brook Road Property Owners Object To Sewer

Begin Moving At North Street

This morning some of the office equipment of the North street office was moved into the new administration building on East street at the rear of the North street building.

This was the first moving of any of the equipment to the new building. Despite the fact that the new building will not be completed until the latter part of this month, it is advanced to such a degree that moving can be started soon.

Lightning Rods On New School

Lightning rods are the latest addition to the new George Washington junior high school, located on Euclid avenue, according to J. Clyde Gilfillan, the contractor in charge of construction.

All work is progressing rapidly, with an extra crew of men, reports Mr. Gilfillan. The marble work in the lobby of the building is expected to be completed Wednesday, the contractor states.

HOON IS STILL CATCHING FISH

According to word received from L. S. Hoon, sanitary police officer, who with his family is spending two weeks at Conneaut Lake, he and his son, Edwin, are having a great time catching fish at the lake. They have caught 90 fish to date. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jones, Sr., of Monroe street, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Jr., and daughter, Elma, of the Pulaski road, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hoon over the week-end and also caught twenty-four black bass, perch and blue gill fish.

Potato Diseases Must Be Controlled

High Yield Is Impossible Unless Potato Fields Are Disease Free

It is impossible to grow high yields of potatoes unless diseases are controlled, said County Agent H. R. McCulloch this morning while speaking of the potato field meet which will be held Wednesday, August 1.

During the past year 187 Pennsylvania farmers produced over 400 bushels of potatoes on measured acres. Thirty-six of these produced over 500 and six over 600 bushels. All of these men laid special emphasis on disease control by using disease free seed and spraying well.

Good potato growers are applying at least 10 sprays during the season, putting the first on as soon as the rows can be seen. The material used is a 4-4-50 home made bordeaux mixture.

While a great deal of spraying has been done, there should be no let-up through the month of August, sprays being applied every seven days.

As long as the plans are green, spraying is beneficial. It saves the crop from the ravages of late blight which comes at this time. Lawrence county farmers, says Mr. McCulloch, during the past few years have made their crop profitable by the last few weeks of spraying while their neighbors lost money owing to late blight attacks.

Child Struck By Car Near Victor's Camp

Small Daughter Of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin Of Fifth Street Is Injured

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 7. — Monday evening about 8 o'clock, Roberta, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin of Fifth street, was struck by a car which was operated by John Streeter of Ewing Park, on the Wurtemburg road near Dick Victor's camp.

According to Streeter's story, there was a car parked along the side of the road, which started to drive out into the road just as he was passing, and in swerving his machine to miss hitting the other car, the child stepped right in front of him from the bushes by the side, and he struck her before he could stop. It is thought, however, that Roberta is not badly injured, although an X-Ray of her shoulder was taken this morning in an effort to determine whether or not her shoulder was injured.

She was rushed to the hospital by John Kirkpatrick, according to the police reports, where first aid was administered. She is resting as comfortably as can be expected today.

Do Not Neglect Insect Bites Warns Head Of Health Department

"The other day the newspapers carried a story of a man who was bitten by a tarantula while he was unloading bananas. Fortunately, prompt medical attention saved the victim's life. While tarantulas are very seldom found away from their native clime, even in banana bunches, and the danger to Pennsylvanians is thus negligible, people must realize that the summer season is the open one for lesser pestiferous insects and flies, said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health.

"The keenness that the mosquitoes and other bite-dealing bugs display for human beings is so well, painfully and generally appreciated that it seems almost absurd to mention it. But in this connection the important thing to remember is that commonness does not by any means reduce the amount of damage that untreated stings and insect bites can sometimes accomplish if proper precautions to avoid evil consequences are not properly taken.

"It is true that people can often be bitten, and except for a temporary annoyance, suffer no further ill effects. On the other hand, there are many unattended bites and stings, apparently harmless, that result in more involved and sometimes painful complications.

"Perhaps it may seem to be a lot of trouble to apply a soothing ointment to all stings and bites as a matter of course. However, it is the only safe process. Too frequently the minute wound, of slight consequence itself, becomes infected through scratching and much damage results.

"It is impossible to avoid insect stings at this season of the year. But their untoward consequences can be practically eliminated by the sensible practice of applying a cooling salve and attempting to reduce the most natural inclination of alleviating the itchiness by creating a fingernail sore. If you must scratch, then cleanse the wound and apply an approved germicide. Carelessness in this matter spells risk and may cause much trouble."

American Banking System Undergoing Decided Revision

Start Concentrating System Into Smaller Number Of Institutions

National, Federal And State Banks Being Decreased Each Year Is Shown

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The American banking system is rapidly being concentrated into a smaller number of financial institutions, it was learned today at the office of the comptroller of the currency and the federal reserve board.

Officials said that the result is a far-reaching improvement in the country's banking system, greater stability, fewer failures and an increasing position of securing for depositors.

All banks, including national, federal reserve members and state and other institutions, number approximately 27,000, a reduction of $3,000 since 1923, although the resources of over $68,100,000,000 are more than $14,000,000,000 greater than five years ago.

The number of national banks alone decreased 300 since 1920 with approximately 7,700 now in operation. At the same time the national bank resources increased by $6,000,000,000 to $28,000,000,000.

Both the comptroller's office, in charge of national banks, and the Federal Reserve board, said that the general tendency is toward consolidation and greater strength of a fewer number of banks.

Country "Over-Banked."

Officials frankly admitted that the country has been over-banked since the war.

It was pointed out that in those sections like New England, where there are the smallest number of banks compared to population, failures have been materially less than in districts of the middle west where there are large numbers of small banks.

The reduction in the number of banks is expected to continue for some years to come, as bankers are convinced that only by this method can be reduced the large annual loss from failures. This tendency is not only saving money for depositors, but cutting down the loss to directors and stockholders, who in many cases have been assessed heavily to prevent losses to depositors.

During the first half of 1928, according to reserve board figures, a heavy reduction in the number of failures has been experienced both by member and non-member banks. Conditions are better than for several years. There is no alarming banking situation in any part of the country, a condition that has hardly existed since the war.

Figures show that a majority of failures during the six months were in the middle west. Comparatively few failures were reported in the east, New England, or the San Francisco district.

FALLS 118 FEET OVER CUYAHOGA CLIFF, IS KILLED

Summit Man Believed To Have Stumbled Over Precipice In Dark

AKRON, O., Aug. 7.—Hurtling downward 118 feet from the brow of a precipice overlooking the Cuyahoga river, Walter Miller, 36, of 296 Union street, Cuyahoga Falls, was dashed to death some time last night on the jagged rocks that border the stream.

His body was found Monday afternoon by two boys, who were exploring the river bank near the Glenn bridge, Cuyahoga Falls.

His neck was broken and his skull fractured, according to Dr. M. B. Crafts, Summit county coroner, who returned a verdict of accidental death.

Miller, who was employed as a truck driver at the New Searl golf course on Tallmadge avenue, in the Akron suburb, is said by Cuyahoga Falls police and the coroner to have walked over the edge of the cliff in the darkness, probably mistaking a level grassy plot beside Prospect street, near the Glenn bridge, for a roadway.

Efforts are being made to find Miller's wife, who is in Cleveland at an address unknown to her sister, Mrs. Sherman Prinze, with whom Miller boarded.

Brother Tig.:—

On account of the fight Monday evening, we decided to meet Wednesday, Aug. 8, at eight o'clock at the zoo. Committees for the outing will be selected at the meeting Wednesday.

E. F. STRIZZI, Secretary.

REV. R. C. MOON AT CITY MISSION

SEEKS DIVORCE FROM ONE TIME SCREEN CELEBRITY

Wife Of "Fatty" Arbuckle Asks For Separation; Reports Wild Party

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—Doris Dean, screen actress, today filed suit for divorce against Roscoe Arbuckle, one-time famous film comedian.

The petition described an alleged "wild party" in Hollywood and charged that Arbuckle became intoxicated and sought to forcibly "make love" to women guests.

The actress charged Arbuckle was "vicious, cruel, morose and nagging."

Arbuckle has not appeared in pictures since he was acquitted of responsibility for the death at a hotel party in San Francisco of Virginia Rappe, film actress, more than seven years ago.

The plaintiff asked $750 monthly alimony pending trial of the suit, $5,000 attorneys' fees and $250 court costs.

They were married in 1925 and separated last May. Community property was listed at $25,000.

Arbuckle recently opened a night club near Venice.

Alick Richardson Dies Suddenly

Word Received By Sisters Of Sudden Death Of Former Resident

A telephone message was received last night by the Misses Alice, Lulu and Nettie Richardson of 1312 Highland avenue, of the very sudden and unexpected death of their brother, Alick Grant Richardson of Brookline, Boston, Massachusetts. No particulars were received other than that his death was entirely unexpected.

It came as a shock not only to the members of his family but to the community at large, where he is well known, he having been born here, raised and educated in this city, before going east, where he has resided for many years, although a frequent visitor at the home of his sisters here.

He was the son of the late Alexander and Mary Robinson Richardson. He was a visitor here a number of weeks ago and was in the best of health at that time.

The fact of his death came as a most severe shock, because of the fact that all arrangements had been made for his wife to arrive at the Richardson home here on Thursday of this week, while he and his son Alick, Jr., were to have driven through, arriving here on Wednesday of the following week. As far as is known here, he had been in the best of health until his unexpected death.

The body will be shipped to this city where funeral services will be held from the Richardson residence, 1312 Highland avenue, and interment will be made in this city. The full particulars will be announced later.

Industrial Activity Is Above Normal

State Department Makes Report Of Employment For Present Time

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7.—Employment office reports of the Department of Labor and Industry for July made public today show industrial activity slightly above normal for this season of the year.

Summer dullness has failed to affect the metal and metal products industries in the larger cities of the state. The Philadelphia office reports the situation there as "booming" for those lines, while the same report was made for the Pittsburgh district.

Although building and construction activities generally were reported as slightly above normal, little new work is being started. The majority of skilled mechanics along such lines are employed on work which started earlier in the season.

Little change was reported in the bituminous district. The struggle between the various mining factions was said to be less acute and the demand for bituminous far beneath the available supply.

Increased demand for anthracite which followed the seasonal reduction of prices has failed to maintain steady production, the majority of the collieries being on a part-time schedule. The report of the Scranton office mentions the campaign being waged in that section to induce railroads hauling anthracite to use that coal instead of bituminous. A large railroad was reported as experimenting with anthracite on its passenger engines. Adoption of such a policy by the railroads of the anthracite field would help to overcome the present slump in the industry, it was asserted.

Hotels and restaurants were reported hard hit by the unusually wet summer. The Johnstown office reports that there have been no demands for help at roadhouses or summer hotels "because of no summer until quite recently". The same situation was reported from the resort sections of the state.

Unskilled labor, if competent, was reported as generally well employed, with the majority of job seekers confined to the more youthful and elderly types.

Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston lost 25 pounds by swimming 54 hours without stopping in a New York pool recently but as she had 215 left it seemed hardly worth while.

England is to remove the restrictions on export rubber it is reported. So it will stretch further evidently.—The Savannah Morning News.

62, He Shows 'Em He's No Has-Been

Job Hunter Swims Ohio River On Back, Holding Newspaper Aloft

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7.—A man of 62 who is without a job is of no use to anyone. Young fellows are needed today.

Every place he went, Edward B. Roe heard the same story. In Florida he had kept a grocery store until the bottom fell out of the real estate boom. He had gone to Albany, N. Y., and a hundred other places until he came to Cincinnati last Thursday.

The bosses would at first seem interested because Roe's eyes were keen and intelligent and his body appeared strong and upright. Then he would tell his age.

"We're slack now," they would say actfully. "Later on, maybe."

Finally Roe became desperate. He would show them. Years ago he swam the Ohio river at Jeffersonville, Ind., on his back while holding a piece of newspaper above his head without getting it wet.

He would do the same thing now only swim farther and show them that he was still strong and young.

It was hard getting witnesses because no one would be convinced. Finally he went to the Bellevue boat harbor at Bellevue, Ky. Carl Schott and "Dad" Thorne there agreed to accompany him.

At 5 p. m. Sunday, Roe started. He swam on his back, holding aloft a newspaper in one hand and a handkerchief in the other. He crossed the river six times to keep out of the way of steamers that sent up high rollers. Rain poured down.

But he showed them. Roe climbed triumphantly out of the water 12 miles from Coney Island amusement park, where he had started three hours and five minutes before.

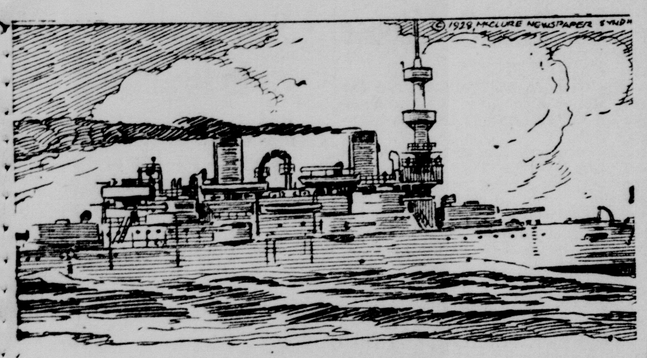
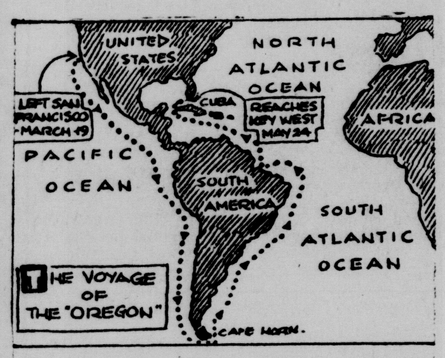
The Voyage Of The "Oregon"



WHEN WAR WITH SPAIN SEEMED IMMINENT, THE "OREGON" ONE OF OUR MOST POWERFUL BATTLESHIPS, WAS ON THE PACIFIC COAST SHE WAS ORDERED TO JOIN THE BATTLE FLEET IN THE NORTH ATLANTIC.

THE "OREGON" LEFT SAN FRANCISCO ON MARCH 19 AND, PLOWING THROUGH STORMS AND HEAVY SEAS, MADE THE LONG AND GRUELLING VOYAGE AROUND CAPE HORN TO JUPITER INLET, FLORIDA, A DISTANCE OF 14,700 MILES, IN 66 DAYS.



WHEN THE "OREGON" REACHED THE CARIBBEAN SEA, OUR NAVAL AUTHORITIES WERE ALARMED FOR HER SAFETY, FEARING THAT SHE MIGHT ENCOUNTER CERVERA'S SPANISH FLEET, THEN KNOWN TO BE LURKING IN THOSE WATERS.

BUT THE "OREGON" CAME THROUGH THE DANGER ZONE SAFELY, AND JOINED SAMPSON, NONE THE WORSE FOR HER EXCITING VOYAGE. IN ANSWER TO SAMPSON'S SIGNALLED QUESTION, "CAN YOU MAKE 13 KNOTS?" CAPTAIN CLARK OF THE "OREGON" REPLIED, "14, IF NECESSARY."

Western Series Fatal To Yanks

New York Yankees Will End Final Invasion Of West Today, And They Are Glad

ATHLETICS ARE BEATEN BY TIGERS

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The champion New York Yankees today are winding up a western tour in which they did not win a single series—a new and crushing experience for the once powerful machine which began setting the baseball world on fire two years ago. If the Hugmen are beaten by Chicago today, they will have lost all four series in the west.

The only silver lining to New York's dark cluod is that their pursuers, Connie Mack's thunder herd of white elephants, have slowed up a trifle. The Yanks lost to the White Sox yesterday in fifteen innings, 5 to 4, but their lead remained at 3½ games when the Athletics were beaten by Detroit, 8 to 5. The Tigers kayoed George Earnshaw and his mates made three errors.

Willie Kamm's triple in the fifteenth ruined the Yankees after a pinch double by Reynolds had tied the score in the ninth. Pipgras was the losing pitcher, Adkins the winner.

The pennant dreams of the Cubs apparently have gone up in smoke. The Bruins went slumming in Philly and were over twice by the lowly Quakers. Hack Wilson's 25th and 26th homers failed to win the opener and Alex Ferguson stopped the Cubs cold in the nightcap. The casualty list totaled 8 to 7 and 5 to 1.

The much-shuffled Washington club, swamped Cleveland, 11 to 2, after Willis Hudlin had won a 7 to 4 decision over the Nats in the opener.

Heavy hitting by Kress and Manush staked the Browns to a 9 to 4 win over the Red Sox.

Other teams did not play.

Greensburg Golfer Is Tourney Winner

Perry Delvecchio Wins Western Pennsylvania Open For Second Time

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 7.—Perry Delvecchio, Greensburg's diminutive golfster, placed the crown of Western Pennsylvania's open golf championship more firmly on his head today for his two-stroke lead for the 36-hole battle yesterday at the Westmoreland Country Club course brought him the crown for his second consecutive year.

As a defending champion, Delvecchio showed his wares. He walked into the clubhouse after the 36-hole match and displayed a card which totalled 143. It was par 72 going out and 71 coming in.

The nearest thing to Delvecchio's card among the 75 entrats and aspirats for the championship was one turned in by Conneaut Lake's pro, Fred Baroni, whose card totaled 145 and assured him of secondary honors.

When Commander Byrd goes to the South Pole it might not be a bad idea for him to take his own rescue expedition along with him.

Two Games In Twilight Loop

Two games are on tap tonight in the American section of the Twilight league. The games will start at 6:30 o'clock daylight savings time.

The Clifton Flats team will tangle with the Slovak A. C. at the Cedar street field with Nolte and Bryson the umpires. The Mahoning team will play at Wampum with Zidow and McCann the officials.

The West Pittsburg team takes a forfeit game from the South Hill team, due to the fact that the South Hill team has been dropped from the league.

Rickard Signs Tommy Loughran To Meet Sharkey

Rickard Plans Loughran-Sharkey Bout For Date Of October 5

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Promoter Tex Rickard has signed Tommy Loughran for a bout with Jack Sharkey on October 5 and Joe Smith, manager of the light-heavyweight champion, was to ask the New York State Athletic Commission today to allow Loughran to enter the elimination scramble for the heavyweight title vacated by Gene Tunney. Sharkey, however, has not been signed by Rickard for the Loughran bout and is flirting with rival promoters.

Smith said Loughran would sacrifice the Sharkey match if ordered to relinquish his 175-pound title, as Jack Delaney did, as the price of entering the heavyweight ranks.

With Knute Hansen lined up and Luis Firpo reported to be attempting a comeback, Rickard is confident that his elimination tourney will be a huge success.

Tennis Alphabet—M

By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

A tennis statistician, searching for M's, need only take his racket and dip into a prize trophy filled with alphabet soup to find plenty of champions and near champions splashing around. "L" had its Lenglen, but "M" has its Molla Mallory, who beat Lenglen once, and its McLoughlin and its Murray, the flaming comets of California, who, with their terrific services and gleaming personalities always put on much more of a show than Lacoste does, even if they didn't play quite such perfect tennis.

"Ladies first," so Mrs. Mallory, the former Molla Bjurstedt of Norway, has the honor. To be brief, Molla won the United States singles championship eight times, the doubles title twice, the mixed doubles three times, the indoor singles five times, the indoor doubles once, and the indoor mixed doubles twice. Twenty-one national titles! The courageous and popular Norse girl also played on five United States Wightman Cup teams.

Maurice McLoughlin, the "California Comet," who did more than any other player to make tennis popular with the multitudes, blazed across the sports horizon in 1909, when he first received national ranking owing to his fine play in the East. His pleasing personality and dashing slambang style of play made him a popular favorite, and he came into his own in the Davis Cup matches of 1914 with startling defeats of the two famous Australians, Brookes and Wilding. He had already competed in the Davis Cup matches of 1909, '10, and '13, and he won the national title in 1912 and 1913.

R. Lindley Murray, the "California Meteor," likewise was a popular court figure because of his disposition, wonderful service, and fine overhead play. He won the United States title in 1917 and '18, defeating Bill Tilden the latter year.

Other stars whose names begin with the thirteenth letter of the alphabet are Harold S. Mahony, Dean Mathey, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McLean, Miss Anita Myers, Mayme McDonald, Elizabeth H. Moore, Mrs. Fellowes Morgan, Miss A. M. McKinley, Miss Myrtle McAteer, the Marriott sisters of England, and Fritz Mercur.

Davies Wins From Rugged Jose Allano

Willie Gives Remarkable Exhibition Of Boxing And Romps Away With 10 Round Battle Which Pleases Fans Who Pack Bowl; Fans Disagree With Judges When Award Goes To Vivio Over Belmont; Dugan Stages Another Good Bout And Beats Valdez; Laughable Aces Draw An Canzoni Wallops Witz.

By ED. FRITZ

WILLIE DAVIES, 113¼, of Charleroi, last night gave a marvelous exhibition of boxing and defeated Jose Allano, 111, a fast and rugged Cuban flyweight in a spectacular 10-round bout before a crowd that completely filled Bill Jolly's bowl.

Davies boxed marvelously, hit fast, punched accurately, weaved like the former dynamite king, Jack Dempsey and took eight of the ten rounds. Allano took the second and fourth but Davies and Allano were not near a knockout at any time.

Willie got away to a fast start and took the first session. In the second Allano kept on top of the Welshman and he tore in with the viciousness of a bulldog, sent uppercuts to the jaw, left hooks to the body and jabs to the face.

Masterful Boxer

After losing the round Davies went to work like a master with a pupil and took the third but no difference how often he landed Cuban Jose kept boring in and in the fourth Allano had the best of an exchange and drove Davies to a corner.

He sent right and left to the body and and sent a fusilade at the Welshman who could not wiggle out of the hole but he finally commenced weaving his head to and fro, escaped and with his rapier left jabbed himself out of the hole.

That was the last round that Allano took although he kept tearing in only to be met with straight lefts, right crosses and find himself outsmarted. When they clashed in clinch in the fourth Allano's head cut a gash beneath Davies right eye.

Right To Heart

They fought for the head in the fifth then slugged like two fiends. Davies had the best of work at close quarters and suddenly shifted his attack to the head forcing Allano to miss often. Allano held Davies arms at the end of the round.

Davies sent a right to the heart when the sixth opened that temporarily slowed down the Cuban and Allano sent over a hard right to the jaw. Davies spun Allano and they slugged in the center. Davies wiggled out of a corner at the bell.

Allano's right landed back of Davies' head in the seventh as the Welsh boy slipped the punch around his neck. Allano landed a right and took four to the face. Allano got Davies on the ropes but he ducked out of danger.

Davies flashed his left like a knife and after landing on Jose's face sent four blows with right and left to the body. The fighting was fast and Allano rushed, putting Davies to the ropes but Willie outsmarted him and escaped danger.

Willie's left hand went to work again in the eighth and it landed repeatedly. The Cuban could not get past it. Finally he hit Willie on the head with a right and then Davies flashed like a beacon in the dark and lost Allano.

But the boy from the Isle refused to give a step. He did not show the sign of a punch having landed and he continually kept after Davies who was giving one of the most remarkable samples of real boxing that can be seen.

Allano fought Davies to and fro across the ring in the ninth but Davies was always out in front, spurting, jabbing, hooking and weaving. He spun Allano around but the latter kept punching, hooking and trying desperately to nail the Flash.

Davies On Ropes

When the bell rang for the ninth Willie was rushed to the ropes and took a right and left to the stomach. He ducked away and they slugged with right and left in the center, blows going to the head and stomach.

Davies jabbed three times and they fought on the ropes. They exchanged blows in the center and Jose hit Davies with a left on the jaw. Davies commenced slamming him with lefts straight to the face and the Cuban could do nothing else but take them.

They shook hands for the tenth and as Allano rushed in Davies met him with a left to the face. They slugged several times but Davies had far the better of the exchanges. He shifted his attack, first to the body then to the head and won the unanimous decision after the tenth round ended.

Dugan Defeats Filipino

Young Vivio, Pittsburgh and Jimmie Belmont, McKeesport boxed a six round semi-final. Belmont tried to force the fight but Vivio kept bounding away and the crowd did not care too much for the style and when the decision was given to Vivio a roar of dissatisfaction swept through the wooden circle. They weighed, Vivio 143½ and Belmont 144.

Mickie Dugan, Cleveland, 123, defeated Jacinto Valdez, 125, Filipino in a fast and good six round bout. Dugan was too clever for the brown boy who substituted at noon for Monte Serko who had the misfortune to lose his father in death. Dugan was the better boxer but when Valdez turned southpaw he kept the boy with the green tights hustling. It was a mighty good fight.

The Laughable Aces, Spike Henderson 140¼ and Sandy Taylor 140¾ fought a fast four round bout.

Canzoni Beats Witz

They were too busy to laugh last night and the bout was called a draw. Spike appeared to have the more class of the two but Taylor flashed toward the end of the battle.

Tony Canzoni gave away a couple of pounds to K. O. Witz, a newcomer to the Jolly bowl and gave Witz a merry shellacking after the first two rounds. Canzoni fought a good fight after he had let Witz battle his stamina away.

Bill Jolly is the promoter at Jolly bowl. Next Monday night Johnny Dunn who outclassed Joe Boychan at the bowl will tackle Dick O'Leary, a boy who is a replica of Willie Davies and who is one of the flashes in the 122 pound class.

Ryantown Defeats Hillsville 6-1

The Ryantown team just about cinched things in the National section of the Twilight League on Monday night at the Ryantown field by downing Hillsville 6 to 1, in a well played game.

Lintz and Augustine opposed each other on the knoll and the former hadthe best of the engagement, allowing but five hits and having three strikeouts. Augustine weakened in the third inning and Ryantown found him for enough hits to produce five runs.

Kaufmann and Ryan led the attack for the Ryantown team, while P. Conti and Riley were the best stickers for the Hillsville team.

The Ryantown team can win the pennant in the National circuit by a victory over the Edenburg team on Wednesday night.

Youthful Swimmer Sets New Record In Olympic Event

George Kojac Of New York City Sets New Record In 100-Meter Back Stroke

(International News Service)

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 7.— George Kojac, youthful New York swimming star, today broke the world's record for the 100 meter back stroke in the elimination heats of the event at the Olympic swimming stadium.

Kojac was timed in one minute, nine and one fifth seconds. In the same heat, Irive, of Japan, took second and Schumburg, of Germany, third.

Walter Laufer, of Chicago, won the second heat in 1 minute 12 4-5 seconds. The Britisher Bresford was second while Bitskey, of Hungary, took third place.

Paul Wyatt, of Uniontown, Pa., won the third heat in 1 minute and 14 seconds. Lunfahl, of Sweden, took second place.

The first two to finish in each heat and the man making the best third place time qualify for the semi-finals.

Pitticisms

BY BILL PITT

The Olympic races are nothing to wave an American flag over. Uncle Sam was left knock-kneed at the post and he's still there.

Yankee ankles stuttered themselves into a discordant symphony of defeat.

United States legs were weighed in meters and found wanting. They were sidetracked somewhere in the stretch and then watched the rest of the world go by.

Olympic scenery consisted mainly of an assortment of Canadian heels and British insteps against a background of Finnish toes.

The races looked like any battle during the World war. The Yanks were always chasing somebody.

However, in the other events, Uncle Sam's athletes cleaned up like a con man at an Arkansas carnival.

"Sure, but I'd rather have a Chesterfield"

Mild enough for anybody and yet they Satisfy*

*WHEN we sign our name to a statement in an advertisement, we mean just that. To us, signing an advertisement is in no way different from signing a contract.

There is no double meaning, no half-truth, no false note in our statement that Chesterfield cigarettes are mild enough for anybody—and yet they satisfy.

American Sculler Wins Olympic Race

(International News Service)

SLOTEN, Holland, Aug. 7.—Kenneth Myers, of Philadelphia, defeated Candebau, of Switzerland, in the single sculls this afternoon. Myers' time was eight minutes and 5:3-5 seconds. Candebau's time was eight minutes and 11 seconds.

The distance was 2,000 meters. At the 1,500 meter mark Myers was leading by three and one half boat lengths. The Swiss spurted and cut down the intervening distance. Myers showed that he had plenty of reserve strength and was able to keep ahead of his opponent.

PREVENT ROUT OF U. S. STARS AT OLYMPIC GAMES

American sport fans can be thankful that Bud Houser, Eddie Hamm, Sabin Carr, Bob King, Ray Barbutti and Elsie Robinson came through with victories in the early days of the Olympic track and field events. Their showing prevented what started out to be a general trouncing. Houser set a new Olympic record in the discus throw, Hamm a record in the broad jump, Carr topped the Olympic mark in the pole vault, Miss Bobinson set a new world's record for the 100-meter dash, King won the high jump, and Barbutti won the 400-meter run.

Cen. Presbyterians Trim Croton 2 To 0

The Central Presbyterians applied the white-wash brush to the Croton M. E. team at the Scotland Lane field on Monday night. The final tally was 2 to 0.

Funkhouser on the rubber for the Presbyterians hurled a brilliant game holding the heavy hitting Croton team to four hits and fanning 14 men. In no inning of the game was Funkhouser in danger and set the Crotonites down with ease. Seward pitched good ball for the Croton team, holding the Presbyterians to five hits.

McClelland and Uhle had the only extra base blows.

Steel Executive Denies Rumor Of New Development

Denies Report That Carnegie Steel Is Planning Plant For Conneaut, Pa.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—L. H. Burnett, vice president of the Carnegie Steel corporation, today denied that any developments are planned in the near future on the 5,000-acre tract of land owned by the corporation near Conneaut, Pa., 12 miles west of Erie.

"We have owned the tract for 25 years," Burnett said, "and each year there is a recurrent report that we plan to build a plant or otherwise develop there. There is nothing to the report. There is nothing in sight in the way of development."

Young Canuck Olympic Hero

Nineteen-Year-Old Runs Uncle Sam's Dash Stars Ragged

PERCY WILLIAMS.

Central Press Cable to New Castle News.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Aug. 7.—For the first time in twenty years of Olympic competition American sprinters failed to land a victory in the dash events in the international games.

For the first time in the history of the modern revival of the games they failed to place at least second in one or more of the sprints.

And the man who played a leading part in carrying the dash events at Amsterdam out of their hands was a mere lad of 19 from British Columbia—a sort of an added starter in the games when his countrymates left Canada for Europe.

Percy Williams won both the 100 and 200-meter dashes. Won them over a span of three days. Won both decisively and with a time that, while not record breaking was good enough to disparage any effort to belittle his victory.

In the shorter dash Williams' time was 10 4-5 seconds—just one-fifth of a second slower than the Olympic mark. Behind him came Jack London British negro runner and George Lammers, German hope. Frank Wykoff conquerer of Charlie Paddock and America's main hope came in fourth. Bob McAllister of Boston was sixth.

The one victory was all that was asked of Williams. When he expressed a desire to compete in the 200-meter event later coaches were hesitant, fearing that the strain might overtax his still tender muscles. But Williams asked to be allowed to run.

He led the field to the wire by a yard—Walter Rangeley of Great Britain crossing the line that far behind him. And the pace had once more been too hot for the American entries. Jackson Scholz winner of the event in 1924 came in tied for third with Helmut Koernig, German star. Again Williams time 21 4-5 seconds was but one-fifth of a second slower than the Olympic record.

Tourist Party In Mexico Is Robbed By Rebel Bandits

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—Federal troops are today in pursuit of bandits that held up 60 tourists, including a number of Americans, on the highway to the Cacahuamilpa Grotto in the state of Guerrero yesterday. Upon their return to this city today the victims reported that they had been robbed even of their clothing.

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The brilliant rallies in the oil and copper, motor and specialties stocks spread consternation to the ranks of the bears in the early trading today, and frantic bidding for stocks to cover shorts resulted in sharp advances in prices of a number of the well known shares.

Warner Brothers class A on the big board and the Class B stock on the curb raced ahead about 6 points each in the first period at the expense of the shorts, who were thrown into confusion by the favorable earnings reports of the corporation. Fox Film, Pathe and other amusements stocks made a strong bid for speculative interest.

Large expansion in gasoline consumption stimulated spirited buying of the oil shares. Sinclair was the outstanding performer in this group, a number of large blocks of the stock being taken above 29. Marland and the low-priced standard oils attracted strong buying.

Industrial stocks have recovered practically all the ground lost in the violent slump which carried the averages down about 18 points in late June. Profit taking in the second hour held up the advance, but most of the active shares moderate gains from yesterday's fine prices levels.

Call money was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Missourians Go To Polls Today

Candidates For Senator, Governor And Congressmen To Be Chosen Today

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 7.—Missourians went to the polls today to select candidates for one United States senator; governor; congressmen and numerous state and county offices.

Chief interest was displayed in the Democratic race for senatorial nomination where Charles M. Hay, St. Louis "dry" leader, has staged a campaign against James A. Collet, of Salisbury who opposes the Volstead Act.

The campaign was enlivened by the entry of Senator James A. Reed who supported Collet and charged Hay was "an enemy to the Al Smith ticket. Senator Reed is retiring from the senate after his present term expires.

Barrel Rolling Is Held O. K. If Empty

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7—Tudor Alex of Lackawanna, N. Y., has written to the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs asking permission to roll a barrel through Pennsylvania next month. Alex explained that he intends rolling the barrel from Buffalo to Miami, Fla., and has communicated with officials in all states asking permission to roll the barrel.

In reply to his request, the Department of Internal Affairs notified him that a permit was not necessary in Pennsylvania, but warned him that if the barrel contains a beverage of any kind that the prohibition laws of Pennsylvania do not permit an alcoholic content of more than one-half of one per cent. He was advised to exercise care on the highways and not to interfere with traffic in municipalities.

Guardsmen Stage Battle In Rain

Command Post Exercises On Monday Ends For Headquarter Units

AIRPLANES AID IN CARRYING MESSAGES

(International News Service)

CAMP HENDERSON, MOUNT GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 7.—Completing the command post exercises started yesterday, all headquarters units returned to camp today after a wet night spent in the field.

The command post exercises continued the blue offensive started against a red invading force from the west, taking the headquarters units and commanders far into the field for a 30-hour tour of combat training.

Among the officers who took part in the exercises were Major General William G. Price, Jr., of Chester, commander of the 28th Division, Brigadier General Edward Martin, of Washington, Pa., commanding the 55th Infantry Brigade, Colonel Robert M. Vail, of Scranton, of the 109th Infantry Regiment and Colonel John Aiken, of the 110th Infantry.

National Guard airplanes of the 103rd Observation Squadron of Philadelphia, under Major J. Sidney Owens, assisted in the maneuvers, carrying messages and locating the enemy.

The 213th Coast Artillery, anti-aircraft unit, of Eastern Pennsylvania under command of Colonel Clarence J. Smith, of Allentown, today trained in artillery drill, record pistol firing, infantry drill, battery communications and organized athletics.

Soldiers of the 109th Infantry of northeastern Pennsylvania and the 110th Infantry of central Pennsylvania engaged in rifle practice, pistol markmanship, machine gun firing and combat training.

"SENOR" McADOO HAS LOTS OF FUN

Not giving a hoot about politics and politicking is William Gibbs McAdoo, ex-secretary of treasury and in 1924 seeker of the Democratic presidential nomination, as he takes part in a Spanish fiesta at Santa Barbara, Cal. McAdoo, who has retired from politics, at least temporarily, is shown garbed as a Spanish caballero.

Divers Tapping Messages To Crew In Sunken Sub

(International News Service)

ROME, Aug. 7.—Trapped 131 feet below the surface of the Adriatic sea 31 men in the Italian submarine F-14 awaited rescue this afternoon while divers on the outside tapped messages of good cheer to the prisoners.

The cruiser Aquila, which was standing by, radioed a message that the divers were in constant communication with the 29 men and 2 officers in the submersible.

Rescue efforts were handicapped by rough water. There was a high wind which kicked up a heavy sea.

The F-14 sank while on coast patrol duty yesterday morning after being in collision with the Italian Destroyer Giuseppe Missori. For a time the fate of the men inside the craft was not known and it was feared that another tragedy might develop similar to the S-4 off the Massachusetts coast last winter. When radio telephone communication established with the men they sent word that the compartments of the submarine were free of water.

"The homes of the fine old families are vacant." Maybe not. Maybe that vacant look is a result of association.

One reason why savages stand the heat better is because they haven't any thermometers and can't tell how hot they are.

Sutton Speaks At Meeting Of Lions

Talks About Gasoline Business At Noon Hour Meeting

George W. Sutton, head of the Sutton Gasoline Company of this city, delivered the noon-day address before the members of the New Castle Lions club, in their regular weekly gathering at the Elks club today.

Mr. Sutton, who through his position, is well versed in the manufacture of gasoline, delivered one of the most enjoyable speeches on this product that the club has heard for some time.

One of the important matters discussed by Mr. Sutton was that gasoline industry lost $200,000,000 last year through over-production. However, the companies are now determining methods to avoid this, he said.

Mr. Sutton exhibited a chart that showed clearly the complete process of the manufacture of this important product. "No other product has gone through so many changes in the past few years as gasoline," concluded Mr. Sutton.

Previous to Mr. Sutton's address, plans for the annual Lions frolic at Lake Brady Park, in Ohio, on August 16, were made by the members. It is probable that the local organization will send a large representation to this affair.

Just Among Us Girls

APPEALS TO COMMUNITY FOR AID FOR HIS SON WHO IS DEAF AND BLIND

Automobiles rumble past the corner of Washington and Jefferson streets! Street cars clang! The sun shines! Children shreik at their play!

But Dale Marshall, aged 17, who lives at 7 South Jefferson street, does not hear the automobiles, the street cars nor the children. He does not see the sun shining into his room. For he is both deaf and blind.

His father, William Marshall, who has been in New Castle for something like 30 years has done his best to aid the boy. For a long time, he has taken the youth to many doctors in a hope that he can be assisted. As yet, he is still deaf and blind, and his father's money is gone.

Until a short time ago, his father employed a housekeeper, as the lad's mother is dead. But now, with money practically gone, the housekeeper has been dismissed. All must go to the boy in an effort to help him regain his sight and hearing.

The father spent every cent he earned on his son. He feels that it is his duty. Now, however, he finds that his earning power cannot keep pace with the medical expenses. So he appeals to the people of New Castle for aid in helping him to make the sightless eyes to see and the unhearing ears to hear.

Dale must go through an operation soon. The father does not have enough money to pay for the operation, and already he is lagging behind in his doctors' bills. They must be paid. Clothes and furniture he has pawned in a futile effort to meet the mounting expenses.

To pay for the pending operation and so that he can get his finances straightened out William Marshall appeals to the generosity of the people of New Castle. He wants aid, for he needs aid in the worst sort of way.

If you care to give to this most humanitarian cause, contributions should be left at The News office. There they will be taken good care of, and The News will see that they get to the boy.

And it will be well to remember that it is not for himself that Mr. Marshall wants the money. It is for his sightless, unhearing boy, so that he can be like other lads about the city; and so that the world will give the youth an even break later in life.

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—I nominate for the hall of heroines Miss Anita Tully, dramatic soprano. Miss Tully is starring in the Wagnerian music festival in New York after six years of study under American, not European instructors. And she obtained the money for her instruction by working in that dreaded place, the New York Morgue!

Twelve hours a day, first as a secretary, and later as a pathological technician, she worked among the unclaimed dead, in order to be able to cultivate her voice evenings and Sundays.

The Morgue is not in any of the sight-seeing itineraries, and few persons ever visit it except on business or upon a sad mission, but to me it is one of the city's most interesting places. No one can visit it regularly without becoming something of a philosopher.

I have a tip for those who go in for collecting first editions of the great and near great. The files of the Engineering and Mining Journal contain more than a score of original contributions, on a variety of subjects, by Herbert Hoover. The Republican presidential candidate and his wife are the joint authors of a book, the translation from the Latin of an ancient volume of mining processes.

Speaking of candidates, a slip of the tongue which made Governor Al Smith say facilitate when he meant felicitate, caused the movietone reel in which he made his debut as a film actor to be junked. The error was not discovered until the picture was ready to be released.

There are lots of us who muff our words when we get on our feet to speak. If an experienced spellbinder like Candidate Smith does it, then the untrained speaker need not feel ruined when his tongue slips and he uses the wrong word.

Strange hobbies are to be found among the rich and the notable. There are, of course, collectors of stamps, old coins, pottery, furniture, rugs, books and jewelry. (Peggy Hopkins Joyce, for instance.) And there also are a number of men who devote themselves to collecting canes. There is a shop in Fulton street which caters especially to such collectors. It is run by a man who doesn't carry a cane himself!

Low-numbered New York auto license tags are an index to political distinction, and cars bearing tags with a number under 200 can "get away with murder" with traffic cops. The low numbers invariably are issued to mayors, governor's aids, bosses, "friends of the administration" and heavy contributors to party funds.

I was in a motor car with a low-numbered tag in Central park the other afternoon, and the driver disregarded several traffic conventions in his desire to get down town in a hurry. Soon a motorcycle cop was in pursuit. When, however, the cop got near enough to the car to see the license tag, he slowed down and dropped the chase.

DR. W. E. PURVIS IN HALL OF FAME OF LOCAL GOLFERS

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 7.—Dr. W. E. Purvis of this city has entered the hall of fame for golfers. Yesterday he made a hole-in-one on the No. 5 hole across the lake on the local course.

This is the second hole-in-one to be scored this year by Grove City man on the course. The other one was registered by George Henderson.

Quick Pile Relief

Can only come by removing the cause—bad circulation in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can bring quick and sure relief. That's why ointments and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's internal treatment HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. Money refunded by McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all good druggists if not satisfied.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The garden looks as though it had had the tender care of some amateur gardener since early in the spring. The tomato plants have that healthy appearance that comes only from pruning and cultivating; the beans are just about ready to bear, and the other plants are just short of ripening their crop.

But it looks as though the summer's work is going for naught. Early this morning workmen started excavating for a foundation wall around the garden and by night the plot of produce will probably have fallen victim to the juggernaut of progress.

Perhaps the owner himself is going to build a garage, but it appears more as though the renter of the ground had had all his pains in vain.

And I just wonder if he hasn't come to the conclusion that after all it pays better to get tomatoes in cans, and radishes in bunches.

Once again Long avenue is tied up between Belmont and Hamilton. The boys are finishing the job of resurfacing the street and while the closing is a trifle inconvenient for a short time, the folks are not complaining. There has to be some inconvenience if improvements are to be made and this is a much needed one.

Drop around to the Leslie Hotel tonight. The committee for the Harold Haid celebration is meeting and you could help a bit with your presence. Friday is the day of the affair at Forbes Field and if you have the afternoon off it would be a nice trip to go down and help to swell the crowd.

You have some road record that you are proud of no doubt. Or your friends have one that you mention now and then. But the latest road record story is between here and Washington D. C. Leaving here after breakfast, a New Castle man was in Washington D. C. just eight hours and twenty minutes later and the distance is about 320 miles.

Membership in any organization affiliated with the American Automobile Association is not appreciated until you get out on the road, hundreds of miles away, and want to get road directions. The A. A. A. office has the information and its so easy to walk in and ask questions. Of course there is a fee if you are not a member, as there should be, for after all the offices are possible only because some motorists are members. It isn't too late to join the New Castle Motor Club.

The next big affair for New Castle is the 32nd Infantry reunion. Get ready for it, it occurs in the first week in September and is the annual get together of the regiment that went to Italy. New Castle had a large contingent in this splendid organization and this city is the reunion site this year.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

A GOOD LAW

Major crimes of violence have decreased in New York since 1926. The principal reason is not hard to find. It lies in the passage and enforcement of the famous Baumes laws of that state. By the terms of these statutes criminal offenders who have been convicted four times for a crime go automatically to prison for life. That takes the habitual offender out of the community for good. The result has been that scores of men and women who have been convicted at least three times have moved across the borders into other states. The logical move is for other states to pass the same sort of law and make crime vastly more unhealthy than it is. Michigan has already done so. Ohio and other states are feeling the effect. They are suffering from an immigration of part of Michigan's criminal class.

DIVINE INTERVENTION

In this modern, scientific age a decreasing number believe in what we used to call "divine intervention." They do not believe that natural laws, by which the universe is governed, are ever set aside. But there is a kind of divine intervention which accounts for most of the good in the world. It is the intervention of that part of human nature which is apparently more than human. Evolution accounts for much, but there are questions which it cannot answer. There is an impulse which on occasion can lift man above his mere humanness. That's divine intervention—and it is frequently needed.

READING ABOUT FOLKS

"People are reading biography this year more than any other kind of literature. Biography and memoirs." So says the managing editor of a popular magazine. It is not astonishing. Biography, the story of a life, is the most interesting of all reading. The normal human is equipped with an enormous curiosity—a curiosity about life and people. He wants to know what they are thinking about and why they do what they do. The intimate, analytical story of a life is entrancing. Much fiction only entertains. All biography both entertains and teaches.

REALLY ENDING WAR

Everybody is properly pleased at the success of Secretary Kellogg's treaties with other nations to submit international differences to arbitration and to do away with war as a means of settlement. The treaties may not always hold in case the provocation is very great, but they mean much. When leaders of various countries of the world agree to make a real effort to outlaw war something has been started.

Thet best contribution the United States can make to end war is to make it financially impossible for other nations to fight. Uncle Sam is the rich banker. His financing makes war possible. Let the government and those citizens who run great banking houses refuse to lend money to excited and belligerent nations and there will be no war.

Good News

By Edna Wallace Hopper

When the summer heat makes your once carefully groomed hair look like a bedraggled mop—

When your wave is a has-been—

When you tear said hair in a frantic attempt to regain that band-box neatness—

When you wonder how stage stars achieve that perfect sheen and manage to keep a wave—

Buy a bottle of my Wave and Sheen. It makes a soft, lovely wave possible during the most "impossible" sweltering days. It gives your hair smart sheen. It adds finish to the exquisite toilette which otherwise might be ruined by the heat of summer.

Wave and Sheen at all toilet counters is 75c a bottle. Your money returned if you are not satisfied.

Welsh Arrive At Cardiff, Wales

Moose Delegates Also Reach Wales; Local News Of Welsh Folks

By WM. A. JOHNS
Brython

News has come to this city that the two great steamships with the delegates of the Moose Order and the Welsh pilgrims have landed their passengers safely on the hills of Cardiff, Wales. The lord mayor of Cardiff and his staff were there to meet them and escorted them to the city building, where a second reception was given them. The music was furnished by the Moose band of Philadelphia. Among the delegates were the Hon. James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor and Mrs. Davis and family, Fred W. Jones of Pittsburgh, W. Ward Davies, chief deputy of the Moose order in Los Angeles and the delegates to the Moose convention at Cardiff.

The Anthracite male party of Scranton and their leader, Prof. Luther Basset, left for Swansea, and they will make their headquarters at the Metripole hotel where they have concerts engagements every day.

WELSH NOTES

News has come to the friends in this city of the death of Rev. David Pugh Griffith, of Jermyn, Pa., which took place last week after some months of illness. Rev. Griffith was one of the leading ministers of the United States. He was born in Wales 68 years ago and came to the United States 40 years ago. He has been a pastor many years in that city. William J. Davies of this city was a great friend of Rev. Griffiths.

Miss Catherine Edwards, daughter of Thomas Edwards of Pico, Cal., who has been visiting in this city for a few days has left for Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and other points.

Many Welsh people are planning to join the Youngstown Welsh in their annual Welsh reunion which will be held at Idora Park on August 15. There will be speakers and congregational singing. The chairman is Jerry R. Hooley, secretary, Ed. S. Jones, and conductor of the day, Rev. Joseph Loyd of Youngstown.

William Evans of Wierton, W. Va., is visiting our city this week. He has just been in this country two weeks. He came from Morristown, South Wales. He used to live next door to Beryn Jones, nephew of William A. Jones of South Mill street this city.

Workman Burned At Fireworks Plant

Guy Vitale In Hospital As Result Of Accident Monday Afternoon

Guy Vitale of 318 Home street is in the New Castle hospital suffering from rather severe burns of the face and hands, sustained Monday afternoon at the fireworks plant of the New Castle Fireworks company on the New Castle-Ellwood City road.

His injuries were the result of an explosion of some materials being used in the manufacture of fireworks. He was removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

At the hospital this morning it was stated that he was not thought to be seriously injured and was getting along in good shape.

Lightning Bolt Affects Voice

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 7.—Donald Carlos, 41, a music teacher of this city, is slowly regaining his voice following a bolt of lightning which followed through the wires while Carlos was talking to his wife over the long distance phone to Oneonta, N. Y.

When the bolt hit the wires, a blinding flash illuminated the phone booth and Carlos fell unconscious. When he was revived he was unable to speak and not until many hours later was he able to utter a sound.

A novelist was chatting with his puflisher. "By the way where did you get the plot of your second novel?" asked the latter.

"From the film version of the first" was the reply.

BECAME DIZZY AND HAD SPOTS BEFORE HIS EYES

Claims Ten Herbs Relieved Liver, Stomach and Bowel Disorders.

"My liver was sluggish, and I had no pep," was the statement of Mr. Russell Patterson, 2029 DeRaud Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington

MR. RUSSEL PATTERSON

Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs. "I would get dizzy at times and see black specks in front of my eyes," continued Mr. Patterson, who is an electrician.

"I was troubled with constipation, and had to take purgatives. My kidneys seemed to be out of order, as my feet would swell, and I had pains in my back. My stomach was weak. Food did not digest as it should, but formed gas. I felt so tired that I wanted to lie down all the time, and never felt like rising in the morning. I had headaches every day, and my nerves were unstrung.

"A neighbor advised me to try Ten Herbs. The second bottle made a wonderful improvement in my condition. I enjoy my meals now without having gas on my stomach. The pains have left my back, and I have no more headaches or dizzy spells. I sleep soundly, and my bowels are regular without the use of purgatives. My feet do not swell, and my nerves never trouble me. I recommend Ten Herbs to the public as a wonderful medicine."

Wherever Ten Herbs has been introduced it has met with tremendous success. Hundreds in this city are using and recommending this new herbal compound for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. It also benefits the kidneys, and gives the whole system a thorough cleansing. Ten Herbs is a modern medicine for many ills caused by the hustle and bustle of the times. It has helped others and why not you?

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Cork Leg Saves War Veteran From Drowning

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 7.—Bruce McQuillen, 43, a World war veteran, was saved from drowning when he leaped from the deck of the ocean liner Cunard, it was learned here today. His cork leg kept him afloat until rescuers saved him in a small boat.

Following his return to the ship, McQuillen slashed his wrists. According to Dr. Daniel McQuillen, promnent Philadelphia dentist and father of the veteran, the younger McQuillen has been despondent because of his wounds for some time.
